Dayton Man To Meet With City Officials

Mayor Calls Council Into Session To Talk Over Tentative Offer

The possibility that bus service may be restored in Marion sooner than expected was indicated by a telephone call received by Mayor Harold F Robinson this morning from a Dayton man

Mayor Robinson said Rolland E St Johns called and said he was interested in starting a new bus company in Marion He said he would send his personal representative to talk to Mayor Robinson Saturday morning He also said he will be in Marion himself Monday Mayor Robinson reported

Operates 4 Lines

St Johns operates of four small city bus lines—two in Ohio and two in other states The two in Ohio are the Lima Transit Co and the Findlay Transit Co Out-of-state companies are the Waterloo Ia and Sioux Falls, S D bus lines

Mayor Robinson immediately called a meeting for 1 p m today of all available city councilmen to discuss the possibilities However it is unlikely any definite plans may be made until such time as more detailed discussions can be held with St Johns representative tomorrow Even then there may be offers from other interested parties

Mayor Robinson said St Johns told him he would inspect the equipment of the Marion Transit Co and may buy it or if it is unusable has other buses of his own he can bring to the city

Can Start Immediately

He indicated he can begin bus service right away if he decides to apply for and is granted the franchise Mayor Robinson said

Franchise of the Marion Transit Co was terminated by unanimous vote of City Council at a special meeting held Thursday night at city hall

An ordinance providing for the surrender of the franchise by Floyd W Riesel company president was prepared Thursday afternoon by City Solicitor George Piacentino after Riesel appeared at his office and said he wished to give it up

The company has operated here from August 1951 until Wednesday night when mounting financial difficulties caused Riesel to halt service Bus patronage has dropped steadily in the period and operat

McCarthy-Stevens Truce Short-Lived

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was no peace today between Secretary of the Army Robert T Stevens and Sen McCarthy (R Wis) despite a 'peace pact' heralded as settling their official differences on questioning Army personnel

Conciliation efforts foundered yesterday when Stevens issued a definition of his position backed by President Eisenhower, and McCarthy retorted that it contained a completely false statement

Stevens statement was intended (A) to counter the practically universal impression that he had yielded to McCarthy on the issue of the senator's handling of Army officer witnesses and (B) to assure any military personnel interrogated in the future of protection against what Stevens had termed abuse'

Stevens said he was confident there would be no such treatment in the future because of assurances which I have received from members of the Senate investigations subcommittee which McCarthy heads

That was the statement McCarthy immediately termed completely false

The senator, who a moment before had been speaking with newsmen in complimentary terms of Stevens said Absolutely no concession was made that any witness was abused

To promise they would not be abused in the future he went on

Herbert Works On Testimony Of Star Witness

Sternbaum's Counsel Seeking To Discredit Damaging Statements

MANSFIELD Ohio (AP) — Atty Paul M Herbert made repeated efforts today to discredit testimony of Miss Margaret Rozenman

The prosecution has attempted to prove Herbert's client E Max Sternbaum 36 year old supermarket executive killed his wife Leah for Miss Rozenman's love

Claims Discrepancies

Herbert told the court he found discrepancies between testimony Miss Rozenman gave State Fire Marshall Charles Scott and that she gave in Sternbaum's first degree murder trial testimony yesterday and the day before

Miss Rozenman, who has disclosed details of a love affair with Sternbaum testified earlier she lied to Marshal Scott when questioned last year under oath

She said she was following Sternbaum's instructions in testimony to Scott

Herbert asked whether she had been intimate with any one other than Sternbaum Miss Rozenman said no

Tells of Intimate Affairs

In two days of testimony Miss Rozenman has told of intimate affairs with Sternbaum and statements he made to her in connection with the death of his wife

Summoned to testify by the prosecution the 32 year old Miss Rozenman told earlier how she met Sternbaum and first tried to spurn his lavish affections

But she continued in her testimony which eventually vowed love for the other

Introduced to Friend

Miss Rozenman explained to the court she introduced Sternbaum to her friend Miss Lillian Terry Weisblat of Columbus Oct 5 1953 when the three had dinner together Less than three weeks later she said she found Sternbaum and Lillian together in Miss Weisblat's Columbus apartment

First degree murder charges were filed against Sternbaum about a year after the body of his pretty wife Leah 31 was found in his Mansfield supermarket offices Dec 4 1952 A coroner's report said the woman died of blows on the head

The state charges Sternbaum beat his wife to death with a wrench then fired the offices to cover up Sternbaum maintains

Final Balloting Expected Soon On Bricker Bill

Decision Still Doubtful After Five Weeks of Debate by Committees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate after five weeks of controversy over proposed curbs on treaty powers appeared to be at the point of decision today with the issue teetering in the balance

Whether any proposed constitutional amendment would get the two thirds vote required seemed likely to be decided by a routine margin

Battle Shaping Up on Larger Tax Exemption

Eisenhower To Oppose Proposal; Both Parties Confident of Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has laid out a line of strong resistance to any increase in the individual income tax exemptions And leaders of Republican and Democratic factions squared off for battle over the issue which predicted success

An exemption increase will be adopted by Congress and Rep Boggs (D La) sponsor of a move to boost exemptions from $600 to $700 This would cost taxpayers about 2½ billion dollars a year and cost the government that much

Halleck's View

Rep Halleck of Indiana House Republican leader declared

The overall Republican program for tax reduction I found and in the interests of taxpayers and the country I think it will prevail

Secretary of the Treasury Humphreys took up the budget for the administration late yesterday with a statement President Eisenhower was said to have approved

He said the administration would vigorously fight the proposed exemption increase because

1 The cost of running the government although coming down remains high and taxes in general high and all governmental spending can be further reduced with safety

HOCKEY, SKATING FILL GAP

Heavy Booking Schedule Keeps Marion Coliseum in Black

By ROBERT LISTON

Marion's Veteran Memorial Coliseum has operated in the black since it opened early in 1950

Harley Mayers secretary of the coliseum board of governors disclosed that the huge public auditorium has on at least two occasions been in debt but sufficient income has been derived from its use to pay off past debts make improvements in the building and meet operating expenses

FRANK FOSTER, manager of the Coliseum attributed this profitable operation to an aggressive booking policy that keeps the building busy and the fact no high-priced manager has been employed to operate it

The building was constructed with the funds resulting from a one-mill tax levy passed in November 1947 Revenue from this five-year levy was expected to be about $375 000 Some difficulty was encountered in obtaining bids to construct the building within this money limitation but bids were finally received and work started in July of 1949 The coliseum was finished in Feb 1950

Mayers who was a member of the original governing board, said that no operating levy was passed, so it was necessary to borrow $10 000 to begin operations This money was used to meet operating expenses such as fuel and electricity bills, until the coliseum could begin to bring in an income

AND THIS INCOME did come in The first loan was paid off in September 1952

How has this income been derived? Mayers said the coliseum board of governors has operated on the principle that the coliseum was not intended to make a lot of money But it should naturally pay its own way and not become a burden to the taxpayer Income has been obtained from rent and fees, Mayers said Everyone who ever used the coliseum has been charged rent, ranging from $15 a night for a small meeting room, to 30 per cent of the gate in the case of large professional shows

Mayers explained that booking agents for such shows as Horace Heidt Gene Autry and Roy Rogers—all of which have appeared here in the past—contact the coliseum manager Frank Foster Terms have always been for the coliseum to receive 30 per cent of the gate after taxes and advertising costs have been taken out

The financial arrangement with the Marion Barons hockey team Mayers explained was for the coliseum to receive 10 per cent of the gate He said the contract calls for an increase in this percentage if and when the 10 per cent doesn't permit the coliseum board to make the profit it believes it should We figured in the very beginning that hockey should pay the utility bill for the coliseum I would say it has worked out very successfully so far Expenditures for fuel oil gas, water and electricity amounted to $7 931 57 last year

THE HOCKEY CLUB also operates the public ice skating under the same financial terms Mayers said Mayers said attendance on the public skating nights has varied between 250 and 400 with admission priced at 35 cents for children and 65 cents for adults

Other income is derived from rents charged high school athletic events The policy here Mayers said, is charge county schools $100 a night plus 7½ per cent of the gate receipts Schools outside the county are charged $100 a night and 12 per cent of the gate Formerly the board secretary explained, percentage rates were 10 per cent

Trucking Firm To Leave State

AKRON Ohio (AP)—An official of the Ohio Express Co says the firm is taking its headquarters out of Ohio because of the state's new axle mile tax

The move is a direct result of the new tax and the resultant breakdown in reciprocity agreements between a group of Southern states and Ohio said Clarence A Kelley general manager and counsel for the company, in an announcement today

The company headquarters will move to Birmingham Ala Monday Kelley said but added plans call for maintaining present terminals in Ohio

The company recognizes it will have to pay the Ohio axle-mile tax on heavy trucks but the additional taxes it would have to pay other states engaging in the reciprocity with Ohio would exceed Dixie's 1953 profit, Kelley said.

Death Claims Noted English Clergyman, 93

Sir William R. Inge, Famed 'Gloomy Dean' Of St. Paul, Succumbs

WALLINGFORD, England (AP) — The Very Rev. Sir William R. Inge, 93, Church of England leader who earned world renown as the "Gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's Cathedral, died at his home here today.

In retirement for two decades, he had been suffering from bronchitis for several weeks.

Dean Inge has said he believed neither in heaven, hell, nor the British Socialists who came to power for six years after World War II.

One thing he was particular about was the pronunciation of his name. He would correct offenders with the remark: "Inge—it rhymes with king, not binge."

He was the embodiment of pessimism in the popular view. But to academic circles of the English-speaking world he was a distinguished classical scholar and profound philosopher. His several dozen publications ranged from "Society in Rome Under the Caesars," issued in 1886, to "Dairy of a Dean," 1949.

He was dean of St. Paul's, the great London cathedral which is the architectural masterpiece of Sir Christopher Wren, from 1911 to 1934. King George V knighted him in 1930.

Though Dean Inge retired from St. Paul's two decades ago, he kept on reading and studying the human beings about him.

Mind Alert to End

His mind was alert to the end.

When he reached 90, he issued yet another of the dour predictions which gave him his nickname, declaring: "We are approaching another dark age."

He warned too, "This overpopulated island is no longer an imperial power and has come to the end of a chapter, just as Rome did."

When he was 91, he gave a lecture in Westminster Abbey which observers termed "fine and fluent."

He attributed his nickname to the fact "I tried to tell the truth as I saw it."

As an example of how he saw things, there was his declaration in 1944, during World War II: "As a great industrial nation, we shall not and cannot recover from this war."

In his old age, he never gave up his bleak outlook on life.

"I find extreme old age a strange experience," he said. "I do not feel things very deeply. Weeks and months glide by almost as in a dream. I do not find much to pray about since the world, the flesh and the Devil are only memories and in this life there is nothing to hope and not much to fear."

His wife, the former Mary Catharine Spooner, died in 1949 at the age of 69 after 44 years of marriage. They had two sons and a daughter.

"I am in my 90th year and hope soon to be at rest," Dean Inge wrote after her funeral. "Let my last effort be to pay tribute to a very beautiful life and perfect marriage, never once clouded during 44 years by any shadow of disagreement or misunderstanding."

When the Republic of Indonesia gained its independence in 1945 the people were about 93 per cent illiterate, but officials of the country say that 35 million of its 83 million people have been taught to read since that time.

Drive for Highway Courtesy Planned

Marion Jaycees To Aid Police in Promoting Campaign Locally

A campaign to make "courtesy" a highway byword will be launched in the Marion area soon by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with city police, the National Safety Council and two other highway safety organizations.

William Flach, president of the Jaycees, said the program here will consist mainly of free distribution of bumper stickers which will display the slogan, "Make Courtesty Your Code of the Road."

SCHEDULED TO begin on a nationwide basis March 1, the campaign is planned to make all motorists interested in their motoring manners and display courtesy to other drivers.

The National Safety Council claims that when an individual gets behind the steering wheel of an automobile he too often changes into motorist who is drunk with the power at his command and displays it by complete lack of motor manners.

"Courteous conduct on the highway is far more important than courteous conduct in the living room—on the highway or streets it can mean the difference between life and death," Police Chief Thomas B. Coon said.

FLACH SAID the Jaycees have ordered 1,000 of the bumper stickers which they will place on automobiles free of charge.

The stickers will be yellow and black and of the type of material that glows when struck by lights of another car at night. They will be eight and one-half inches long by three and seven-eights inches wide.

Included in the code of the road for courtesy are seven easily remembered rules. These are:

1. Share the road by driving in the proper lane.

A SMALL SIZE REPLICA of "highway courtesy" bumper stickers which will be distributed free to 1,000 Marion area motorists is shown here by William Flach, president of the Marion Jaycees; and William Luce. Looking on is Police Chief Tom Coon. First of the stickers to arrive will be attached to Marion Police cruisers.

2. Allow ample clearance when passing.
3. Yield the right of way to other drivers . . . . to pedestrians.
4. Give proper signals for turns and stops.
5. Dim headlights when meeting or following other vehicles.
6. Respect traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.
7. Adjust driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

MOST OF THESE rules are provided for by law, and if not observed are traffic violation punishable by fines in Ohio.

"There are other courtesies not covered by law," Chief Coon pointed out. These include such things as stopping to let another car pull into the traffic lane from a parking space, waiting at an intersection to let another motorist proceed even though you have the right of way, or assisting another impatient motorist to pass you by actually slowing down yourself.

In addition to local and state police and the National Safety Council, and local sponsoring organizations the courtesy campaign is backed nationally by the Interstate and the National Committee for Traffic Safety. It is scheduled for a year-long campaign on the national level.

Police, Patrol List 3 Mishaps

Automobiles Damaged In District Collisions

Three minor traffic accidents were reported on Marion street and county highways today by city police and the state highway patrol.

Both accidents in the city occurred Thursday afternoon.

A collision at 3:25 p.m. on N. Main St. involved cars driven by Howard R. Carey, 55, of 139 Franconia Ave. and John F. Diehl, 82, of near Marion.

At 3:51 p.m., cars driven by Margaret R. Gamble of Fountain St. and Dolores A. Carr of 795½ Oak Grove Ave. were involved in a mishap on W. Center St.

Minor County Accident

One accident, involving a Marion woman and an unknown motorist, on State Route 739 a tenth of a mile from Green Camp, was reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

At 3:45 p.m. yesterday, Virginia Martin, 32, 336 Silver St., Marion, was traveling west and attempting to turn into the B. F. Goodrich plant entrance, when her car was struck in the rear bumper by another car. Mrs. Martin said the other driver stopped to discuss the accident, but she failed to get his name or license number and he soon left.

The patrol reported slight damage to the rear bumper of Mrs. Martin's car. There probably was also slight damage to the front of the other car, the patrol said.

Two Drivers Arrested

Two traffic arrests were reported today by city police. Thomas J. Rose, 19, of 890 Uncapher Ave. was charged with driving the wrong way on a one-way street and Willard L. Ciola, 18, of 406 Thompson St. with reckless driving. Both were cited to appear in Municipal Court today.

Susan Hayward on Stand

Name of Howard Hughes Heard in Divorce Action

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The name of Howard Hughes has found its way into the Susan Hayward-Jess Barker divorce case.

Barker testified yesterday that his twin sons, Timothy and Gregory, 9, told him that Hughes had called to see their mother.

"They said that a man who had called at the house to see their mother had been introduced to them as 'Mr. Magic.'" Barker testified. "They told me that he had a long black chin. And when I asked who this man might be, they said 'His name is Howard Hughes, and he said he was going to take us for an airplane ride, but mother said we should not tell you his name."

Recalled to testify later, Miss Hayward explained that Hughes came to her house to discuss script changes in a picture she made for RKO, where he is production chief. She said she introduced him to the children as Mr. Howard and told them: "His name is magic. He flies airplanes and does many things."

The actress denied she told the children not to tell their father of Hughes' visit. She was asked in cross-examination "Why did he come to your house?"

"He came to take me out," she replied.

Miss Hayward, who testified her income is $17,000 a month, is petitioning for an order to restrain Barker from molesting her, from disposing of any community property, and for custody of the children pending trial of her divorce suit. She alleges mental cruelty.

She testified yesterday that Barker once beat her and tossed her into a swimming pool last July 16. She said her husband dragged her from the house, threw her in the pool, and when she came up screaming, he pushed her in again.

The actress said she was clad only in a terry cloth bathrobe. She said she had just gotten out of bed "I sleep in the raw," she explained.

She said that when she did manage to get out of the pool, Barker marched her to her room in the nude. She broke down at this point in her testimony.

Barker, on the stand later, admitted he struck his wife "with my open hand" after she made "derogatory remarks" about him and his mother. He said he ordered her to bed and when she continued to scream he picked her up and dropped her in the pool.

He said he left home for six days, hoping that when they had both cooled off there might be a reconciliation, but it was not forthcoming. He said he still wants a reconciliation.

burglars attacked him and his wife and ignited the building.

A little more than a month after he met Miss Weisblat, Miss Berenman said Sternbaum told her:

"Marriage to you is the farthest thing from my mind. Marriage and only marriage to you could be a motive. I will never admit on the witness stand that I ever loved you. It will be your word against mine."

Then, she added she told Sternbaum he was talking "like a guilty man" and that "I know nothing you've ever told me of Leah's death has been the truth."

2 Men Fined, Sentenced on Traffic Charge

Two men were fined $400 and costs each and were sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail when they pleaded guilty in Marion Municipal Court Thursday to drunken driving charges.

Judge W. Dexter Harter said each was fined $200 and because this was the second drunken driving offense for both. The standard fine in Municipal Court conviction of drunken driving is $100.

Fined were L. Lloyd Neeley, 48, of 467 Forest St., who was arrested by police January 13 on N. Main St., and Ralph Amos Congrove, 51, of Coolville who was arrested on N. Main St., February 13 following an automobile collision.

Both have been committed to the county jail to serve their five days. In addition to the fines and jail terms, driver's license of both were suspended for three years.

Coliseum

for the county schools and 15 per cent for others, but the lifting of the federal tax on high school sports programs permitted a rate reduction.

Mayers added that the hockey contests and professional shows have in no way interfered with the meeting and school events that were considered a major reason for building the coliseum originally. He said the hockey schedule is set up after all the other events, and that ar far as he knows no one has ever been refused the use of the coliseum. If any citizen or group wishes to rent the building for any reputable purpose, it can easily be done.

The coliseum also obtains income from the concessions operated there. Mayers said hat the coliseum has always received 20 per cent of the concession profits, only now an arrangement has been worked out for a portion of that 20 per cent to go toward the purchase of the ice-making equipment now in use in the coliseum.

IN ORDER TO BRING the hockey club to Marion, it was necessary to have such ice-making machinery. Therefore, with the approval of the county commissioners, a contract was signed with the Ohio Sports Concession Co. for 75 per cent of the coliseum's share of the concession profits to go on the ice equipment. Mayers said the cost of the machinery was about $60,000 and the board of governors hope that in about 10 years, ownership of it would revert to the people of Marion.

The coliseum board with the county commissioners' approval constructed a building to house the ice equipment, Mayers said. The concrete block structure measuring 32 by 36 feet was started about July 15 of last year and finished Oct. 11, just in time for the first hockey game. The building was constructed at a cost of about $4,000 out of the residue of the original coliseum levy. Since it was necessary to get the building up in a hurry, it was classified as emergency legislation by the commissioners and bids were not advertised. The material was purchased and local workmen hired to do the job, Mayer said. All bills were okayed by the county commissioners and paid by the auditor.

MAYERS EXPLAINED that in order to install the ice equipment it was necessary to remove 18 inches of the turf floor, fill with stone and make other changes in the building. For this purpose, the county commissioners authorized the coliseum board to borrow a second $10,000. This was done last September.

The labor and material bills for converting the colisum for use of ice came to $16,422.13.

Concerning salaries, Mayers said that up to this year he received $1,000 as secretary and the treasurer $360. However, this year, Mayers said he recommended to the Coliseum board that his salary be cut to $500, the treasurer, Clyde Hinaman, to $250 and the manager, Frank Foster, who had never received any remuneration for his efforts in the past, be paid $500. Mayers' suggestion was approved, thus cutting total salaries by $110.

All in all the coliseum showed a balance for 1953 of $868.59. Receipts including the loan were $29,977.79 and expenditures $29,109.20.

Man, 20, Charged With Breaking Into Real Estate Office

A 20-year-old Marion youth is faced with charges of breaking and entering today as a result of a break-in of the Nelson Real Estate office on E. Center St. sometime Thursday night.

Police said Russell Saunders of 707½ Bennett St. is charged with the break-in and will appear in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Saunders was first arrested on a charge of intoxication as he walked along a downtown street at about 3:20 a.m. this morning.

At 7:33 a.m. today, a passerby noticed the front door glass of the real estate office broken out and notified police.

Their investigation disclosed that someone had entered the office and cut a telephone wire in an inner office but apparently disturbed nothing else.

In their investigation police noticed spots of blood on the floor near the door and on the glass top of a desk.

Recalling that Saunders had had a small cut on his hand which he could not explain when arrested, police tied the two together and questioned him about the break-in.

Very Little Coffee In Brazil, Probing Clubwomen Learn

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Drink your coffee and pay the price.

That's about all the American family can do, because there really isn't much coffee in Brazil, four clubwomen invited to investigate advised upon returning here today.

The four, all holding important posts in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, went to Brazil as guests of that nation, and checked the coffee supply problem from facindas (farms) to empty warehouse upon empty warehouse.

"They've really had a bad time of it," said Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman of Jerseyville, Ill., first vice president of the general federation. "We saw millions of trees dead of a frost which struck last July 4. They were new trees, just coming into bearing."

"The frost deprived the world market of an amount of coffee which would have supplied 150 cups to every American this coming year," said Mrs. Gilbert F. Loebs of Waterville, Maine, the federation's consumer chairman. "And there was drought and insect damage besides that."

Pope Unchanged

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The condition of Pope Pius XII appeared relatively unchanged today and Romans were urged to intensify their prayers for his recovery.

The 77-year-old pontiff, stricken by a gastric ailment Jan. 25, spent a fairly restful night, unofficial sources said. They described his condition as "just about the same as yesterday."

City Marks Spots For Safety Signs In School Zones

A project to insure the proper location of upright signs placed in streets near school zones was started this week by the city safety-service department.

Director Ralph Forrest said circles the same size as the base of the signs are to be painted in the center of all streets where the signs are used.

This will aid school safety patrolmen in placing the signs — which are replicas of a policeman — in the same location each day.

On the narrower streets, the curbs opposite the circle will be painted yellow to prohibit parking and leave ample room for automobiles to pass between the signs and the curb, Forrest said.

Another project of the service department completed Thursday was the installation of a floodlight underneath the traffic light at Main and Center Sts. This floodlight will be used at night when it is necessary for a policeman to stand in the center of the intersection to direct traffic.

The pool of light will provide a safety factor for the policeman and will aid motorists by making the policeman and his hand signals more visible.

Marsh Co., Baker Wood Preserving Co., Ohio Edison Co., Sinclair and Standard Oil companies, Tecumseh Products Corp., Berlou Manufacturing Co. and Huber Manufacturing Co.

MORROW YOUTHS INDUCTED

MT. GILEAD — Three Morrow County youths were inducted into the armed forces this week. Leaving for Fort Myers, Columbus, were: Charles Edward Propst, now of Columbus; Robert McCarthy of Marengo; and Raymond Shipman of Cardington. Jerry Shambaugh of Mt. Gilead had volunteered for induction but his induction was postponed until next month, after he was injured in an automobile accident.

McCarthy

would be admitting they had been abused in the past.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said Eisenhower approved and endorsed 100 per cent the statement in which Stevens spoke of the "assurances" and also said:

"I shall never accede to the abuse of Army personnel under any circumstances, including committee hearings. I shall never accede to their being brow-beaten or humiliated. I do not intend to allow them to be deprived of the long-established practice that they have the advice of counsel when the matter under consideration is one of essential interest to me as secretary, as was the case with Gen. Zwicker."

McCarthy Checks On Phone Numbers

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he has obtained a photographic copy of the telephone numbers of people "regularly called by the Communist party headquarters" here in the 1940s.

McCarthy said he is sending copies of the list to the Civil Service Commission for a check on "how many of the people named on that list still are in the service of the United States government."

He said he will ask his Senate investigation subcommittee to call as witnesses anyone still in the government whose name is found in the list.

McCarthy said the list contained the numbers of "between 600 and 700 persons" and that some of them appeared to be persons employed at the Pentagon, and in civilian agencies of the government.

He declined to say whether any of them were persons then employed on Capitol Hill.

Taxes

posed increased exemptions would "throw us back into substantial deficit financing which cannot be justified at the present time and which we have been working so hard to overcome." The present fiscal program contemplates a deficit next year of three billion dollars.

He said the administration's program already calls for 1954 tax reductions of more than 6½ billion dollars.

He said the program was devised as the most effective way "to promote the prosperity of all the people . . . in a way that will bring permanent benefit to all our people and our country."

Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, assistant Democratic leader of the House, replied that the Democratic drive for increased exemptions aims at "fair play" in any tax cut.

The Republicans have made the decision to reduce taxes at a time when they are proposing an unbalanced budget," he said in an interview.

"Since the Republicans have made this decision, Democrats want any tax reductions to be equitable and fair."

Bus

ing costs have increased.

The company's financial plight first became public in December, when drivers threatened to strike unless repairs were made to the buses. Kreisel said he didn't have the money and a campaign was launched by Marion businessmen to sell stock in the firm to secure funds for improvements. It was not successful.

In January, the drivers walked off when banks refused to honor their pay checks. Buses were idle 10 days until arrangements were made to obtain funds for the payroll. On Wednesday night, Kreisel called in the drivers to tell them he could no longer meet the payroll and was through.

New Operator Sought

Following Council's action, Robert G. Haldeman, chairman of the utilities committee, said "the franchise is now open and we will listen to anyone at all who has a proposition to offer for operating a public transportation system in Marion."

An appeal for all persons who drive automobiles to share the ride with others who normally would ride the buses was issued at the close of the meeting by Robinson.

Haldeman said he knew of one individual in Marion who previously had expressed interest in starting a bus company and of another man who had contact with an interested party.

During the meeting Haldeman was called to the telephone and when he returned reported one of the local men — whom he did not name — had contacted a man in Florida who had once been interested in starting a bus company here.

Acording to Haldeman, the man in Florida was not prepared to give an immediate answer as to his intentions but promised to make them known to his Marion contact by Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Haldeman also reported that Jack Paton, president of the Port Huron, Mich. bus company, was called during the afternoon and asked if he were interested in starting a new firm in Marion. He was not, but gave Haldeman names of two other firms that may be interested. Paton was one of five bidders who attempted to get the bus franchise in Marion during June of 1951 after the Marion Rapid Transit Company went out of business.

Two companies he said might now be interested were the National City Lines of Chicago and another firm in St. Louis which specializes in providing bus service for small cities. Council decided to contact both these firms as quickly as possible.

Haldeman said he believes any company which bids will want an "open" franchise — one which would permit the company to operate with little or no restrictions enforced by Council.

Richard E. Lister, councilman-at-large, then asked Piacentino for an explanation of an "open" franchise. Piacentino answered this is essentially the same as the one under which Kreisel operated. He explained that the franchise agreement itself provided only for the most essential controls such as requirement the company maintain adequate liability insurance, operate on a fairly consistent schedule and otherwise render the necessary transportation service.

Determination of rates and routes is done by resolution of Council, he said.

At this Baldeman noted that Council had done everything in its power to keep the buses running. It had granted every request ever made by Kreisel for adjustments in routes, schedules, and rates, he said.

Open To Any Offer

He repeated an earlier statement that Council is open to accept any offer and advised any interested parties to contact Mayor Robinson. Other than this he said he felt Council had no obligation to "run a bus company" in the city.

Lister pointed out that if any new company does come to the city, Council has "a moral responsibility" to recommend it employ bus drivers employed until Wednesday by Kreisel. He added that John Davis, Local 222, Transit Workers Union of America, had offered to provide drivers for school buses — if Council could find any way to obtain buses for the drivers to operate Haldeman said this was a "fine gesture" but added such a plan would not be feasible because of problems of insurance, obtaining buses and so on.

During further discussions it was brought out that Marion Transit had been operating a total distance of about seven miles for each trip over the combined north and south loops and about 10 miles over the Center Davids Sts. routes. Cost of operation for each bus for each mile was about 50-cents, Haldeman learned.

At the close of the meeting Haldeman expressed confidence that "we will get some bus service in Marion, but how long it will be before we get it or what kind of service will be offered, I don't know."

All Councilmen with the exception of Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward, and Harold Frahch, Sixth Ward, were present.

Baby-Sitter Files $20,000 Court Suit Against Galion Man

BUCYRUS — Grant A. Ulmer of Galion, is named defendant in a $20,000 action for money filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Mrs. Dorothy S. Diamond of Galion, who alleges she suffered permanent injuries when she slipped and fell while "baby-sitting" at the Ulmer home.

Mrs. Diamond, in her petition, states that she slipped and fell on the kitchen floor while caring for the Ulmers' two small children on March 17, 1952. She claims she suffered a fractured leg and injuries to her hip and knee and was hospitalized nearly two months and confined to a wheel chair for an additional eight weeks. Her petition states that she was forced to use crutches or a cane until January, 1953, and that she believes her injuries are permanent.

The United States population gain in the last eight years is more than a third greater than the entire population of Canada.

Amendment

The possibilities as the Senate reached the crucial point were three:

1. Passage of a three-point package plan proposed by Knowland and other Republican Senate leaders and already tentatively approved by majority vote. Knowland says it is acceptable to President Eisenhower.

2. Passage of a substitute proposal by Sen. George (D-Ga) which the administration opposes, although not as determinedly as it did the starting point of the debate, an amendment offered by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

3. Failure of either of these two proposals to muster the needed two-third' margin. That would almost certainly shelve the whole issue for this year.

Approval would have to be followed by similar House action and ratification by 36 states to write the amendment into the Constitution.

Late yesterday the Senate rejected 50-42 a new section by Bricker, which he described as embodying the heart of his original proposed amendment.

Twenty-nine Republicans and 13 Democrats, most of them Southerners, supported Bricker. But 32 Democrats along with 17 Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) voted "no."

The next test, due today, is to be on the substitute offered by George for the tentatively approved plan of the GOP Senate leaders.

George and Johnson both predicted the substitute would get the simple majority needed to displace the GOP leaders' plan. But neither would claim that it could win the necessary two-thirds vote on final passage. Both said the result would be "very close."

Army Cover Up

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Robert T. Stevens, secretary of the Army, and Sen. Joseph McCarthy started out on a cooperative basis in the investigation of the Communist infiltration of the Army. Never did an executive department work together so closely with a congressional committee. There were constant conferences between Stevens's counsel, John Adams, and McCarthy's counsel, Roy Cohn. Adams attended closed sessions of the committee; Cohn gave him advance notice of what was to happen in matters relating to the Army. It was a love feast.

Then the course of the investigation moved in the direction of Army brass who were personally responsible for errors of judgment and commission.

THE INEVITABLE question had to be, who did this?

The fight started when that question was applied to the case of Major Irving Peress, the Queens County Communist leader who was taken into the Army in the doctor-dentist draft, whose documentation is incomplete, and who was flagged as a Communist in April and December, 1953; yet who was promoted from captain to major.

When McCarthy discovered the facts, Peress was hurriedly given an honorable discharge.

Furthermore, the Army knew that Maj. Peress was under investigation by the committee when he was given this honorable discharge. It is curious that such a fuss is made about our brainwashed boys in Korea, two of whom are involved in courts martial, but this Fifth Amendment case is protected by the Army, which risks a major constitutional fight over it.

THE QUESTIONS as to who opens the doors for Communists, who promotes them, who fights for them, who instructs other officials not to testify as to the truth and according to their consciences, must be asked and answered.

While Maj. Peress, a dentist, is, as a person of little importance and his presence in or absence from the Army makes little difference, the system which permits affiliates of our enemy to function in the Army needs to be uncovered.

Secretary of the Army Stevens is a fine person, a businessman brought into government service by President Eisenhower. In this controversy, nothing reflects on him personally. It must be said, however, that he has not succeeded in establishing civilian rule over the brass, which Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson has succeeded in establishing in his office.

It is a difficult thing to do because since unification, the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force have been reduced to third level positions in the government hierarchy.

In all departments, the brass asserts itself beyond its authority, often overriding the authority of the civilians who should be the masters.

THE TENDENCY is to keep such matters under wraps; the annoyance with McCarthy is that he brought matters into the open which the Army prefers should be kept under cover.

It would be preferable that nothing should be kept under cover.

The national defense is not involved in these disclosures of the Communists; it may be imperilled by failure to bring into the open all the evidence of the errors of judgment and commission during the past decade.

Many Army officers are prepared to talk and do talk privately when assured that they will not be exposed.

Without the assistance of what has come to be known as "The Pro - American Underground," little data could be made available. But the top brass continues to prefer the cover - up — "Let bygones be bygones" — because personal friends and officers are involved in laziness, carelessness, thoughtlessness.

Secretary Stevens has fallen into this trap and therefore the country is getting an altogether wrong impression of the man. His argument that he, alone, can determine if an Army officer may testify as to whether he is to appear before a congressional committee is untenable.

SUPPOSE it is an investigation into the embezzlement of a million dollars! Suppose it is not McCarthy who is investigating but Sen. Bridges or Sen. Saltonstall! Where is Stevens's argument then?

The right of Congress to inquire into the operations of the executive branch of government is clear and unassailable. This right has never been questioned by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, although they sometimes questioned the wisdom of congressional committees.

The Eisenhower administration has not been attacked by any of these committees, but it is running interference against efforts to expose the past. This is bad for the country and politically dangerous.

West German Lower House Okays Arming

BONN (AP) — The West German Bundestag (lower house) today approved constitutional changes authorizing the arming of a half million German soldiers to serve in the proposed European Army.

The smashing vote was 334-144.

The decision represented an important victory for pro - Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has based his foreign policy on linking West Germany militarily and politically to the West.

Both houses of the Bonn Parliament have approved the army treaty but Adenauer's coalition maintained the changes approved today were needed to end a Socialist contention in the West German Supreme Court that the treaty is unconstitutional.

The two constitutional changes charge the federal government with responsibility for defense, authorize compulsory military service and declare specifically that the European Army treaty and the Allied-West German peace contract do not violate the Constitution.

They now go to the Bundesrat (upper house) where Adenauer's coalition has the necessary two-thirds majority to approve them. Then they must be ratified by the three Western occupation powers—the United States, Britain and France—who already have given tacit approval to the amendments.

By changing the Constitution, Adenauer intends to force the Supreme Court to throw out the Socialist suit challenging the constitutionality of rearmament.

Mexicans Instruct Spanish Their Way

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The tourist department of the Mexican government has introduced a home study plan so persons in the United States can learn "Spanish the Mexican way."

The tourist department started the new method of teaching Spanish recently to replace "the long outdated United States school system's colorless, impractical teachings set in the remote country of Spain with little-used Castilian accent . . . ."

This new system, which now is available to all persons in the United States, includes weekly printed lessons with quizzes, records designed to provide conversational experience and personal service departments, located in the United States, to answer questions.

The course has been prepared by outstanding professors of Mexican universities. It can be completed in 10 months in the adult program and slightly longer in an elementary program.

Strangely enough, the home-study plan was developed by an American, Sam Rosenkranz who has lived and worked in Mexico for some time. He is from a family of educators.

Indian Lament

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

The Hunkapapa Indian tribal council is about to meet in the Dakota Badlands. The Blackfeet, the Two Kettle tribes and the others will also be called in by Chief Black Hoop up at Fort Yates, N. D. The Sioux Nation is disturbed.

If I read the smoke signals right, I detect the hand of a Hollywood press agent—but I'm happy to hit the warpath with the embattled Sioux. Their problem is Hollywood's problem. And the film colony's dilemma reflects the uneasiness of New England's mill towns, Detroit's auto plants and a thousand factories down the line.

Chief Black Hoop is no comedy Indian. His people must eat. Their sources of income are few indeed. From time to time paleface gold flows into the area in the form of movie - land cash from companies shooting on location, hiring Indians by the hundreds as extras, buying food and renting equipment.

THE WHITE MAN'S movie wagons have not come in recently.

Instad, many a producer has headed south towards the cheap labor of Mexico. Others have gone to England, Scotland, France, Italy, Egypt and Brazil.

The talk is that the movie people want authentic locations — but the wise money knows that it is cheaper to shoot with foreign labor. The scripts are selected to match

In the past year, 900 working days for full crews — well over three years worth of pay — were lost by Hollywood studio workers when producers went over the border or overseas.

At least 34 feature films were shot abroad, financed wholly, or in part by U.S. dollars, in 1953. Eight more were partly filmed in foreign lands.

About 1,000 electricians, carpenters, camera men and wardrobe people were thrown out of work. That doesn't include the extras and bit players who lost jobs.

Thousands of others were hit when movie men began making TV commercials abroad to sell American products to Americans—but took the payrolls out of the country to undercut our own industry. Hundreds of millions of dollars will be involved eventually.

SOMEWHERE down the line a stand had to be made. No one could argue against filming Nero amidst Rome's ruins, but then along came a movie maker who decided to produce "Sitting Bull" in Mexico.

That did it! Hollywood's AFL Film Council decided to whip up a storm. A paleface from Hollywood, Ralph W. Peckham, who hails from South Dakota, is secretary - treasurer of the Motion Pictures Set Painters Local 729. He and the AFL Council contacted Chief Black Hoop's Tribal Council at Fort Yates, N. D. Peckham also wrote to South Dakota's Gov. Sigurd Anderson.

Hollywood's labor leaders protested against the producer's "complete disregard of the beauty and authentic locale of South Dakota." They asked the governor to intercede with the W. R Frank Productions which is planning to make the Sitting Bill Movie in Mexico.

Then word spread like the wind across the Dakota Badlands and prairies. The grandsons of those who rode with Sitting Bull against a lieutenant colonel named George A. Custer at Little Big Horn River in Montana began a war cry of their own.

They are fighting for tradition and their famous hero. But they are fighting for bread and butter, too. Sitting Bull was born, lived and died — and recently was buried in South Dakota.

WHY SHOULDN'T the movie maker spend his money where lies the tradition he's about to exploit? Why should he not hire, at fair wages, U.S. craftsmen and extras along with true Indians and cowboys of the Dakotas?

The Sioux Indians have already contacted one of their senators, Karl Mundt, who is considering hitting the Senate floor with this latest saga of Sitting Bull.

All of which sounds colorful to us in our skyscrapers and store clothes — we who vicariously spent so many youthful nights along the Indian trails. There are now hundreds of other congressmen under less colorful but more terrific pressure from all sorts of unions.

Doll and toy workers, textile workers, hat workers, pipe makers, steel fabricators, etc., are urging the government to do something about runaway industry producing in Japan, Mexico, Spain, even Red Czechoslovakia. Millions of jobs are at stake.

The Sioux and his paleface brothers soon will make a tremendous noise for the Big White Father Eisenhower to hear.

People's Choice

By Saul Pett

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK

Helen Traubel, part owner of a baseball team and full owner of a great Wagnerian operatic voice, has taken her case to the people and the people, she feels, have given her a vote of confidence.

Last September the red - haired soprano refused to sign another contract with the Metropolitan Opera rather than knuckle down to a demand that she refrain from night club appearances during her own season at the met.

Instead, she went out on a six-month tour of both concert halls and cafes. In the night clubs, Miss Traubel, who for years has been one of the Met's leading divas, usually shared a bill with a comedian, dance team and the inevitable chorus line.

"It was simply wonderful," she said at her Park avenue apartment while resting up for an appearance at the Copacabana. 'I knew it would be right and it was."

'Basically, people's tastes are the same, whether they're in an opera house or night club. But in a club, they're less formal, more spontaneous, perhaps friendlier. You feel so close to them."

-:-

IN HER MANY years as a prima donna, Mme. Traubel was accustomed to hearing shouts of "bravo" and "encore." But in the clubs she's just visited, she heard:

"Do it again, Helen!" or; "Give us another tune, Helen!"

At a club in St. Louis, she says, she ran into something which began to resemble a pep rally. After one member, a man at a ringside table stood up and led a cheering section.

"We loved her at the Met, now didn't we?" the cheerleader said. The crowd roared its approval. "But we love her even more in a night club, now don't we?" the man said. The applause was even louder.

In all her cafe appearances, Miss Traubel soiced her classical repertoire with popular songs. She even developed a line of patter to go with them. In introducing one song, she grows very serious and demure and says:

"I hope the lovers of popular music will be a little patient with me if I do something in a more serious vein. I'd like to sing an ancient folk aria which is sung by the peasants of my native village."

AND THEN the house is brought down when she breaks into 'St. Louis Blues."

Miss Traubel said she was surprised so many of the requests shouted from the floor were for classical pieces as well as things like "No Other Love" and "Take Me Out To the Ball Game." She couldn't fulfill some requests—like the "immolation" scene from "Gotterdammerung" or the "Ueberstod" from "Isolde," each of which involves at least 15 minutes of straight singing.

Miss Traubel said she encountered no trouble with drunks or hecklers.

"Oh, now and then I could hear people talking," she said. "But that was fine with me. After all, people come to a restaurant to eat, drink and enjoy each other's company. And anyway, it's up to me to make them stop talking. But, mostly they were quiet and polite."

In Miami, she did so well at a night club that someone arranged a "Helen Traubel" Day at the Hialeah Race Track. She got to award the winner of the seventh a wreath of flowers and "was thrilled to do it despite the fact that I had bet on another horse."

AFTER THREE weeks in New York, Miss Traubel will leave on another tour of night clubs and concert halls. She has no plans for returning to the met "under the present management." And as for baseball, she admits that now that the Browns have moved from St. Louis and become the Baltimore Orioles, she has less of a sentimental interest in the club.

I got the impression you could pick up her stock for a song—say, "White Christmas" and all the royalty rights attached thereto.

'Handled It Badly,' He Admits

Stevens Feels He Muffed His Fight With McCarthy

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)— I guess' said Robert F. Stevens, secretary of the Army, 'I didn't handle it too well"

That was how he summed up his fight with Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) This was how he handled it

McCarthy demanded two things

1 The names of Army people who investigated Maj Irving Peress and gave him an honorable discharge. McCarthy calls Peress a 'Fifth Amendment Communist Peress says McCarthy talks "utter nonsense about him.

2 Appearance as witnesses of two generals connected with the Peress case, although remotely. Stevens ordered the generals to disregard subpoenas for their appearance after, he said McCarthy had 'abused" one of them

Stevens says he wanted assurance McCarthy would not 'abuse' officers who came before him In fact he had told the generals to stand back while he tackled McCarthy on this point in a public hearing that had been scheduled for yesterday

The hearing was called off Wednesday after Stevens spent two hours behind doors with McCarthy and three Republicans in his subcommittee Senators Mundt South Dakota, Dirksen, Illinois, and Potter, Michigan

At the end of the session, with Stevens and McCarthy listening Mundt read to newsmen what he called a 'memorandum of understanding"

It was completely and obviously one-sided It gave McCarthy everything he wanted he would get the names of those who investigated Peress and could not only question them but the generals too It gave Stevens nothing

Stevens said later when he was back in the Pentagon he had assurances from members of the subcommittee—he didn't say assurances from McCarthy himself —'that they will not permit such conditions to develop in the future'

He meant they agreed no Army people would be abused But there was no such agreement in writing What McCarthy wanted he got in writing This memorandum read by Mundt could be considered a contract

Stevens has had a lot of experience with contracts He was head of a big textile firm board chairman of a bank and a member of the boards of directors of some of the biggest corporations in America

He heard the memorandum read but offered no objection He went from there back to the Pentagon

There newsmen asked him if he had retreated when he met McCarthy face to face He replied that he did not consider himself a 'person who capitulates' That was when he made his first suggestion that there was a part of the "memorandum" not in writing

He said he had 'every reason to believe Army personnel will not be abused by the committee' in the future Wednesday night he began calling members of President Eisenhower's White House staff

By then he had time to get a reaction from inside and outside the Pentagon a very widespread view he had surrendered to McCarthy, that he had talked tough but not when the showdown came

Before noon yesterday he was reportedly very upset by the general impression he had caved in The Washington Star for instance on the front page said Army mo rale was shot to pieces by his performance

Late in the day, according to some of the senators who had sat in with Stevens and McCarthy, the Army secretary wanted to make an addition in writing to the "memorandum' issued the day before In effect they said he wanted them to agree no witness before them committee would be "abused"

He got no such document McCarthy said later any such agreement would be an admission witnesses had been abused in the past which he denied had been done

Finally Stevens got tough again He issued a statement backed by the White House which said he had not surrendered and that

If any Army people are abused in the future 'I shall once again take all steps at his disposal to protect them And he added

From assurances I have received from members of the subcommittee I am confident that they will not permit such conditions to develop in the future'

Immediately McCarthy said it was completely false' for Stevens to say he had such asurances

Absolutely no concession was made that any witness was abused," McCarthy said

5 Holstein Heifers To Be Sent To Europe by Group in County

Five Holstein heifers have been pledged for the Christian Rural Overseas Program by the Dairy Heifer Project committee of the Marion County Holstein Club The goal of five heifers to be shipped overseas was revealed at a meeting of the club Wednesday night at the home of Mr and Mrs William Earl on the Pitton Pike east of Marion They will be sent to Europe

Guest speakers were Mr and Mrs E R Kincaid of near Lima, who visited Germany last summer and delivered 47 two-year old dairy heifers to that country They showed more than 200 slide scenes photographed during their trip abroad Mrs Kincaid reported that the German people who receive the cattle have many times nothing else to exist on except the produce of the heifers The animals are donated by individuals and groups, churches or other organizations by CROP united church project Goal for this year is 1,000 dairy heifers for Germany alone

It was explained that the United States government pays the transportation of the cattle to Germany then the German government pays the transportation from the ship to the war refugees who receive them Myron Metzger of Delaware is in charge for this section of getting the heifers together for shipment Marion County dairy herds are predominantly Holstein and in Ohio this is the second highest county in butterfat production it was stated

During the business session at the meeting the annual banquet of the club was announced for March Approximately 200 members and their families and friends are expected to attend The next regular meeting in April will be held at the Brookside Farm at Kirkpatrick, home of Richard Brooks who has won national recognition for herds producing record butterfat poundage

$2 Million in Dillon Dam Funds Sought By Bricker, Secrest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen Bricker (R Ohio) and Rep Secrest (D Ohio) told a Senate appropriations subcommittee yesterday it would be unfair if the group didn't approve two million dollars for Dillon Dam, near Zanesville, Ohio

About nine million dollars has been appropriated by Congress for the project designed to provide flood control for Zanesville and Marietta at the junction of the Muskingum and Ohio rivers President Eisenhower has budgeted two million more for work in the fiscal year beginning July 1

Total cost of the dam is estimated at 27 million

Money appropriated thus far has been spent for grading to relocate tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad purchase of land a brick water dike and steel for two railroad bridges

Secrest said steel for the bridges has been laying in Zanesville since 1949

Bricker said the government has spent nine million dollars but we don't have one penny's worth of flood control "

In addition he said the railroad grading project is being washed away by rains

Bricker and Secrest both said that inasmuch as 265 million dollars for flood control projects throughout the nation have been budgeted by Eisenhower it would be very unfair if Ohio were denied the two million dollars for the state's only flood project

Neglect Charge, Eight Traffic Cases Heard in Juvenile Court

Disposition of nine cases in Juvenile Court was reported today by Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, parents of three-year-old Joyce Robinson who was killed in a fire which destroyed their Lpdberg Ave. home on Dec. 13, were each fined $250 and costs and sentenced to six months in the workhouse on neglect charges.

The workhouse sentences were suspended on condition they provide a suitable and wholesome home environment for their children.

All seven children of the couple were alone in the house at the time the fire started when a kerosene cooking stove in the kitchen exploded.

Traffic Cases

In other Juvenile Court cases, eight youths appeared before Judge Ruzzo in connection with traffic violations.

Lawrence Eugene Cornelius, 17, of 364½ S. Prospect St., was fined $25 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in the Juvenile Dentention Home, and his license was suspended, on a charge of reckless operation.

Carl Milton Brown, 18, of 287 Latourette St., narged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor in the same case, was found not guilty.

Cornelius and Brown were arrested after they led sheriff's deputies and police officers at high speeds through the city and county.

Clifton Eugene Kinnear, 17-year-old Magnetic Springs youth, had his license revoked by reason of false registration in obtaining it. In addition, he was fined $25 and costs and was sentenced to 15 days in the Juvenile Detention Home. This detention period was suspended because he had been detained in the Home for two weeks before the hearing. It was brought out in the hearing that his father had voluntarily reimbursed the Marion Police Department $150 for damage resulting to a cruiser.

Led Police on Chase

The youth was arrested after he led police of three cities on a 100-mile-an-hour chase from Delaware to Marion to Bucyrus.

James E. Arnold, 17, of LaRue, charged with failure to yield the right of way, was fined $25 and costs, had his license suspended until he reaches the age of 18, and was given a 10-day sentence in the Juvenile Detention Home which was suspended on good behavior.

Arnold was the driver of one of two cars involved in a collision at the intersections of County Roads 126 and 108 in which four persons were injured.

Gerald R. Kelley, 17, of 761 Bellefontaine Ave., charged with excessive speed, had his license suspended for one year.

Two 17-year-old Columbus youths, charged with driving without operators' licenses, were each fined $25 and costs.

Malcolm R. Reyle, 16, of 918 Merkle Ave., had his license suspended for one year. He was charged with driving in an unsafe manner.

YMCA Swimming Team Meets Springfield Here

The Marion YMCA swimming team will be host to the Springfield YMCA team at the local pool, Saturday at 2 p.m. The local team will be seeking revenge for an earlier loss to the down state team Feb. 13 when they were on the short end of a 52-23 score.

Considering the fact that his is the first swimming team in Marion and that practice didn't start until December while most swimming teams begin in October the local team has come a long way with a number of swimmers showing great improvement in past weeks so that they are now beginning to take a few first places. The team also is very young with junior high school boys being the majority on the team. Thus far the team has been beaten by Lima twice 53-21 and 52-23 by Springfield 52-23, and the Columbus Swim Club 40-35.

After the meet Saturday the team will work to qualify for the Ohio-West Virginia area championships at the Ohio State Natatorium March 27 and will swim a post-season quadrangular at Springfield on April 3 against the host, Lima, and Hamilton.

Cost of Living Up in January

Declines of November, December Wiped Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today living costs rose in January to a point just below the record.

The rise was too small, however, to prevent workers in the auto, aircraft and farm machinery industries from losing a penny in hourly pay rates. More than a million workers were involved.

These workers got a 2 cent increase last fall when the government index hit its peak of 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average in October.

Today's rise brought the index to 115.2, the same figure as last September. The index had declined slightly in November and December.

Today's index, reflecting prices paid by consumers in mid-January, is the highest living cost figure in history with the exception of last October.

Box of Poison Found

A cardboard box containing a dozen pint bottles of poison was found at the intersection of Routes 30 and 98 Thursday evening by George W. Dempster of near Marion.

The box, containing bottles of liquid methyl of mercury dicyandiamide, is now in the Marion County sheriff's office. Labels on the bottles indicates that the poison was intended for use as a seed disinfectant.

Crawford Fair Building Bids Slated Monday

BUCYRUS—The Crawford County Fair board will meet here Monday night to consider new bids from the two lowest of 12 bidders for a new Junior Fair building at the Crawford County fairgrounds here.

James Gebhardt, fair board secretary, said today that S. A. Schieber and Son and Frank Teynor, both of Bucyrus, will be asked to present revised bids at the board's meeting to conform with new specifications for the building.

The new plans call for a smaller building and the bid is not to include full work, Gebhardt said. In order to meet code requirements for wood truss construction the building will have to be reduced from 80 feet to 74½ feet. The length, 160 feet, remains unchanged.

The Schieber firm submitted a bid of $21,000 for a building with wood trusses and rafters and it also bid $25,200 for a building with steel trusses. The bids did not include fill and only rough grading.

Teynor bid $26,750 for a building with steel trusses and using lightweight concrete block, $26,250 for the same structure with regular blocks and $23,500 for a building using regular block with wood trusses. His bids all included all fill and grading.

Other bids were submitted by Weithman Bros., Inc., and Crawford Construction Co., both of Galion; Bernier Bros. Construction Co., Canton, Clarence E. Bailey, Bucyrus, and Marion Contracting Corp. of Marion.

Completion date for the building is July 1.

Erie To Buy 100 Cars For 'Piggy-Back' Service

CLEVELAND — Erie Railroad board of directors has authorized the purchase of 100 specially-equipped roller-bearing flat cars "with an eye toward possible future use in piggy-back trailer service" Paul W. Johnston, president, announced today.

Car builders will be invited to submit bids for an extra long flat car with an overall length of 75 feet, capable of accommodating two 35-foot highway trailers by either side loading or end-loading. Conventional flat cars are usually 53-feet long and can handle only one large size or two small trailers.

The Erie is the first railroad to announce a decision to buy specially designed flat cars of this length for possible use in "rail-trailer" service. The 100 cars are estimated to cost over $1,000,000.

Building Bought By Marion Federal Savings and Loan

Purchase of additional land for possible future expansion of Marion Federal Savings and Loan Association facilities was announced today by Kelley R. Vance, executive vice president and secretary.

The property consists of one lot and part of another on which Bougher's Restaurant is now located at 130 E. Center St. The building is next door to the Marion Federal offices.

Vance said the additional property has many possibilities but no definite plans for its use had been established.

The land and buildings were sold to the association by Mrs. Sylvia F. Boughers.

The restaurant will continue to occupy the first floor of the building under a one-year lease.

A basement room under the restaurant is occupied by Abbott TV and Appliances and offices on the second floor are occupied by law firms, architects and individuals.

Bible Words to Live by

JOHN 15 5 "I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing." (RSV)

This verse has given courage and information to me in my quest for effectiveness in serving Christ.

The Christian should bear fruit as naturally and unconsciously as a healthy branch bears grapes. Christ the vine supplies the energy

But there must be a vital union with Christ. "He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit." The eighth chapter of Romans could well be Paul's exposition of this text "There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus—All who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God—We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him—If God is for us, who is against us?—For I am sure that neither death nor life—nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord."

In grateful dependence we affirm the words of Christ, "Apart from me you can do nothing."

Bruins Shatter Marion Winning Streak 8-5 at Troy

Wimpy Jones Leading Gun For Barons With Hat Trick

TROY—The Troy Bruins put on one of their fines exhibitions of hockey at the Hobart Arena Thursday night to beat the Marion Barons 8-5 and thus keep their hopes alive for a sixth place finish and a playoff spot

The Barons sported a 5 1 game advantage going into the game but the way the Bruins performed they could have beaten anyone

Newcomer Ken Campbell played well for the Bruins in a defensive rle but on the dim side Troy lost the services of Sid White and Bobby Manson indefinitely.

The first period in which only one goal was scored, and that by the Bruins was one of the finest periods of hockey ever played in the arena Both goalies made sensational saves time after time Al Bennett of Troy had nine saves and Lou Crowdis of Marion had a busier time with 16 It wasn t until the 18 33 mark that Rod McElroy received a beautiful pass from Gordon Buttrey and drove the puck through Crowdis

The Bruins put on steam in the second frame and extended their lead to 4-1 as Manson scored two goals and Norm McAtee one, all on fine plays In between, the Barons broke up Bennett s shutout hopes as the Jones boys, Wimpy and Harold collaborated with Wimpy getting the score At 11 26 when Sid White of the Bruins was sweeping in at great speed on the Barons net Baron defenseman Ted Lebioda shoved him just enough to get him unbalanced and he crashed into the goal with such force that he uprooted the structure and tore one of the reinforcement pipes loose White was removed to the hospital for X-rays on his right knee

The third period was a ding-dong affair with Buttfrey, Bob Rawlyk, Garnet Schaf and George Edwards scoring for the Bruins and Gordon Vejprava and Wimpy Jones twice, and Tony Poeta for the Barons to make the final 8-5 Midway in the frame Manson twisted his right knee and went off the ice in a stretcher.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

A friend of ours, Allen White, sports editor of the Lima News, has completed a three year project in compiling a complete record of state high school play since the tourney back in 1923

SHORT

Al has covered the state in compiling an amazing list of box scores for all Class B and Class A games along the tourney trail The boxes are all included in his booklet, The Sweet 16

One section of the book deals with officials in the tourney games and is of special interest to Marion cage fans A former resident here Francis Bacon, who officiated many football and basketball games in this area, deadlocked for the lead in the number of games worked

Only Mack Schaffer of Ottawa one of the top lights on the present scene boasts as many assignment Each has worked nine.

BACON'S FOUR Class B assignments are tops and his three championship Class B tilts ties him with Frank Lane of Chicago general manager of the Chicago White Sox

Other officials who have been well known in this area which are placed high on White s list are Gene Mechling of Columbus, who has handled two assignments A B Long of Newark with three Fred Trautman of Bucyrus with four and Bob Hipp of Kenton, who worked the 1953 classic

White explained the reason for the book was to assure the records compiled by Ohio's high school cage squads would not be forgotten "Ohioans are proud of the great part they hold in the national picture" Al said "They Believe that our high school basketball is the most colorful to be found . . That the caliber of the Ohio game ranks with the best The many outstanding names and exciting moments of the state's scholastic tourneys have helped to make Ohio a leading sports center," he said

WHITE CLAIMS the three years spent working overtime was time well spent

Harold W Emswiler, high school athletic commissioner, has termed White s handiwork the best and most complete record of tournament play ever compiled in the state

Presidents Finish Campaign Tonight Against Tiffin Team

Harding battles to stay out of the Buckeye League cellar tonight at Harding gymnasium when it takes on Tiffin Columbian in its final regularly scheduled basketball game of the season

Tiffin s lone Buckeye League win was scored at the hands of the Prexies 76 70 in the earlier meeting Both quintets are taking 1-8 league marks into the fray.

Tiffin will probably go with the same lineup that led the visitors to victory over Harding last time That would be Bill Groman, 5-9, and Gene Cook 5-11, at the forwards Dick Weinberger, 6-1, at center, and Gene Smith 5-9 and Dan Gossett, 5-10 at the guards

In the initial meeting of the clubs Groman, the team s big gun, and Weisenberger both dropped in 20 points They received excellent support from Gossett and Smith who both added 15 Cook contributed seven markers

The locals will be out to rebound from last week s 98-73 beating at Fremont Harding had edged Fostoria in overtime the week before for its first Buckeye League win of the year

Tiffin has bowed to Bowling Green 62-53 and Fostoria 60-55 in its last two Buckeye League jousts In preceding league outings Tiffin had lost to Fremont 52-49 Fostoria 59-57 Bowling Green 50-37 and Findlay 51 47

Harding s losses to the same clubs were decisions to Bowling Green 76-53 and 63 62 Findlay 55-46 and 55 54 Fostoria 79 43 Fremont 7? 63 The Presidents take a 7 11 mark into tonight s fray

Probable Harding starters are Bob Hamor and Max Kaelber at the forwards Dave Schnelker at center and Ron Conroy and either Doug Bibler or Don Smith at the guard slots

Conroy is the leading Harding scorer with 231 points this season Hamor is next with 167 while Bibler has connected for 156 Schnelker 149, Smith 142 and Kaelber 109

Trailing all the way in the previous meeting with Tiffin the Prexies twice tied the score in the third period and pulled within 67 66 of Tiffin in the final moments of the tilt but fell before a Columbian rally

League - leading Fremont 8 1 is at Bowling Green and Findlay 7-2, at Fostoria 4 5 in other final Buckeye Leauge action tonight

Selvy Tops List

Bevo Francis Wins Berth In All-American Balloting

NEW YORK (AP) — Furman's Frank Selvy, who sets a major college record every time he scores a basket, tops the 1954 Associated Press All-America collegiate basketball team, announced today.

Named as Selvy's teammates by a vote of 365 sportswriters and broadcasters were Don Schlundt of Indiana; Tom Gola of LaSalle; Cliff Hagan of Kentucky and Bob Pettit of Louisiana State

Not since the heyday of Easy Ed MacCauley of St. Louis back in 1949 has a player been accorded as many votes as Selvy, a native of Corbin, Ky.

He was picked on the first team on 280 ballots; 41 times on the second team. In other words he was named on 321 of the 365 ballots from all parts of the country.

On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two points for the second team, Selvy polled 1,482 points, 273 points more than the 1,209 rolled up by Schlundt, Indiana's record scorer in the Big Ten.

Gola and Hagan, two repeaters on the All-America, tallied 1,146 and 1,101 points, respectively. Bob Pettit, of Louisiana state whose scoring feats were overshadowed by Selvy's, was far behind with 784 points.

Pettit actually polled fewer first-place votes than the controversial Bevo Francis of little Rio Grande (Ohio) College, but made the first team by virtue of numerous second team marks.

Pettit tallied 102 first place votes to 119 for Bevo, but got 137 seconds to 86 for Bevo. Thus he gained the edge over Bevo for the first team by a mere 17 points.

Bevo's 767 points easily put him at the top of the second team Indiana's Bob Leonard, Kentucky's Frank Ramsey, Duquesne's Dick Ricketts and Western Kentucky's Tom Marshall round out the second quintet.

Togo Palazzi of Holy Cross; Arnold Short of Oklahoma City; Bob Mattick of Oklahoma A&M; Johnny Kerr of Illinois and Dickie Hemric of Wake Forest were named as a third team.

Gene Shue of Maryland; Si Green and Jim Tucker of Duquesne; Paul Ebert of Ohio State and Bud Matheny of California head a list of 27 additional players given honorable mention.

Selvy has been termed by many "an all - time All - America." Although at 6-foot-3 he is the smallest player in the team, "Fabulous Frank" this season has broken major college records like matchsticks.

He is perhaps known best for his 10-point spree against Newberry on Feb. 13 and the fact that he is the first major college player to score more than 1,000 points in one season. As of Feb. 23, he had 1,099

Francis, who scored 113 points in one game against Hillsdale this year, was called by some merely a "basketball sideshow." The majority held, however, that Bevo has demonstrated his ability against major competition and that his high-scoring feats of 1953 were no fluke. A year ago Bevo gained national prominence by scoring 116 points against Ashland and a third team berth on the All - America. After the season the NCAA threw out the record because it was not made against a four-year school.

Phils Won't Loaf; Drill Sessions Set

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies may not come up with a crew of whiz kids this season like they did in 1950 when they won the National League pennant, but they'll definitely not be accused of loafing.

Maybe Steve O'Neill is thinking of the fate of his predecessor, Eddie Sawyer. After the Phils astounded one and all by winning in '50, they fell to fifth in '51, fourth in '52 and got home in a tie for third last year.

Sawyer was let go in the middle of the '52 season when it became apparent that his charges were going nowhere in particular. Some of the experts said he was too lenient with the kids. Everyone was agreed that the youngsters couldn't take the prosperity and spent too much time reading their press clippings

This year, O'Neill said, the Phillies will hold regular morning practice sessions—and that goes even after night games. If the club keeps clumbing it should be at least a contender for the pennant, and O'Neill is taking no chances.

"It isn't a matter of overworking or punishing the fellows," said the easy - going Irishman. "It's merely a matter of doing the job we're paid to do.

"Last year we were in good shape until the middle of the season. We were either in first place or only a couple of games from the lead. Some fellows took it easy and we were lucky to finish in a third-place tie with the Cards.

"In the days when I played and when all our coaches played, it was part of the day to work out in the morning. Of course, we played all day ball. But even so getting in a morning workout after night games isn't going to be too hard on the players."

Elsewhere on the citrus circuit: Joe Black, the pitcher who could mean a lot to the Brooklyn Dodgers, will be permitted to work out his own problems, said Manager Walt Alston . . . Ron Necciai, the onetime minor league strikeout whiz, is having stomach trouble and Pittsburgh General Manager Branch Rickey has ordered him not to participate in intrasquad games . . . With signing of Don Mueller, the New York Giants have only one of their top operatives still outside the fold — Whitey Lockman . . . Billy Hoeft, the Detroit hurling stringbean, said he feels stronger than ever and thinks this will be his year.

Boston Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau planned an intrasquad game today because of the "condition" of pitchers Joe Dobson, Leo Kiely and Tom Herrin . . . The Cardinals will have only one workout a day . . . "Second workouts would be for people who goofed off in the first one," said Manager Eddie Stanky.

Foxx Shops For Position In Baseball

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—Hall of Famer Jimmie Foxx, generally recognized as the greatest right handed power hitter of modern times, is looking for a job in baseball.

The slugging first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Red Sox, whose 534 home runs ranked him second only to Babe Ruth, has been out of baseball for five years. He ended his active major league career with the Phillies in 1945 and managed the St. Petersburg club of the Florida International League from 1947 to 1949.

"I'm anxious to get back into baseball in almost any capacity, he said at the recent baseball players' golf tournament at the Tampa Golf and Country Club "I talked with Hank Greenberg (Cleveland general manager) recently and he said he'd let me know So far I haven't heard anything from him "

Like the majority of ex-ballplayers, Foxx bemoaned the lack of incentive and ambition among present-day players He thinks all players should set goals for themselves each season and strive to attain them

"Ballplayers today are too smug and satisfied," he said "When I played, I used to set my sights on certain figures at the start of each season. I promised myself I'd hit .35, collect 5 home runs, drive in 15 runs and make 200 hits.

"Maybe these marks appear too high but that's what gives you the biggest satisfaction—attaining something that appears out of reach."

Former major league players scouting for the Chicago White Sox include Johnny Mostil, Hugh Mulcahy, Fred Schulte, Zach Taylor and Hollis Thurston.

Two Toledo-owned horses will be running for the rich prize They are O L Mears' Lu MacPherson and the Saunders Mills Stable's Smashaway Another entry is Rebel Al, who won 8 firsts and 8 seconds last year for Columbus Owner Ben Falter

Bevo's Injury Postpones Two Rio Cage Tilts

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Basketball's big boy, Bevo Francis, will be back in action in the NAIA Tournament playoff March 8-13 at Cleveland, Coach Newt Oliver said last night.

But the final two games on Rio Grande College's basketball schedule have been postponed almost a month, Oliver added.

A game with Shurtleff College, originally scheduled for tomorrow in St. Louis, will be played March 20. A game set for Monday against Creighton University in Omaha will be played a few days later.

Oliver said the postponements resulted from an ankle injury suffered by star Rio Grande scorer Bevo Francis in a game against Ashland Tuesday night. Bevo suffered a bone bruise and pulled tendons and ligaments in a scramble for a rebound.

Oliver said the other schools preferred to reschedule the games rather than play Rio Grande without Bevo.

Odds Favor Perez To End Pep Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)— It's the old story of the up-and-coming youngster and the fading veteran in Madison Square Garden tonight when 31-year-old Willie Pep risks his fistic future against 20-year-old Lulu Perez in a 10-rounder.

The Brooklyn speedboy, only 9 when the Hartford, Conn., boxing master won the featherweight title for the first time, is a slight 6-5 favorite to dash the ring-scarred Pep's hopes of getting another crack at the 126-pound title.

The bout will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC) at 10 p.m., EST.

Date Changed for 1954 Soap Box Derby Classic

Date of the 1954 Marion Lions Club Soap Box derby has been changed from July 31 to July 17, it has been announced by Dr. W. A. Ranck of Marion, Derby director.

The date was changed, Ranck said, because of a rule stating races must be run off at least two weeks prior to the National Derby. He said the new date would leave room to accomodate a rained out race.

At the same time, Dr. Ranck announced that parent letters explaining the Derby rules and sponsor cards had arrived and could be picked up now by Marion youths at the Midtown Chevrolet.

Group Formed To Study Great Lakes Water Use

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A new organization has been formed to promote the use by inland cities of Great Lakes waters

The executive director—John H Byrne, a Cleveland insurance agent—said the Lake Erie watershed Conservation Foundation was formed last night and will urge studies to show how water shortage problems in central and southern Ohio cities can be solved by pipelines.

Byrne said the foundation will advocate regional planning by 31 northern Ohio counties to utilize the supply in Lake Erie.

Aid Promised To Handmade Glass Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen from three states yesterday pledged their help to the handmade glassware industry in its fight against foreign competition.

A delegation of industry representatives met with Reps. Buchanan, Saylor and Morgan of Pennsylvania, Jenkins and Hayes of Ohio and Molohan and Staggers of West Virginia. After the conference its spokesman, Ed Shav of Star City, W Va., said the delegation was encouraged.

The glass workers want help when reciprocal trade agreement matters come up in Congress and in urging President Eisenhower to consider placing a quota on imports of handmade glassware.

Ohioans in the delegation were George Parker, Toledo; James Burden and William Daugherty, Newark, and Marion Mullins, Columbus.

Report From the White House

A couple of weeks ago White House correspondents asked a question that had been bothering them for some time: what the devil was Robert Montgomery, the movie actor and television producer, doing on the premises from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday?

J. CROSBY

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied that Mr. Montgomery helped President Eisenhower with the technical side of his television speeches, adding that the actor was not on the payroll and was contributing his services for free.

While that dispelled any fears about Mr. Montgomery having his hand in the public till, it still didn't clear up the mystery as to what Montgomery was doing with his time. The President doesn't make very many TV speeches and the technical end of any speech ought to be a matter of maybe 20 minutes or so.

WELL, SIR, I dispatched a hired snoop to the White House to snoop and report back. He's just back, breathing hard and full of information: "This Montgomery is certainly the suavest and handsomest guy ever to get waved on his way by White House plainclothesmen. You ask him what he's doing there and first crack out of the box, you get the guided tour through plenty of corridors and terraced porches to the presidential studio, especially lit for TV.

"Montgomery lit it himself and he boasts that he can produce any kind of Ike he wants—a light Ike, a dark Ike or a technical Ike — whatever that means. It's all done by lights because Montgomery won't let the President use makeup. He says: 'I want to bring out Ike's wonderful personality. This is the person the people voted for. I want them to see him.' "

Montgomery's toughest problem arises when Ike has to read a speech simultaneously before both movie and TV cameras. Movie cameras need a lot more light than TV cameras and Montgomery is horrified when those 2,000-watt lights strike the presidential pate and sets it to gleaming like a river in the moonlight. One of Montgomery's most valuable services has been to teach Ike how to use teleprompter, the gadget that rolls out a speech in big letters before the speaker's eyes.

AT THE MADISON SQUARE Garden rally, Ike ad libbed a few words; the teleprompter got ahead of him and he never caught up with his own speech. He swore he'd never use the infernal thing again. However, Montgomery wooed him back to the instrument and now Ike and the teleprompter get along just fine.

"Montgomery provides other, less tangible services," my snoop reported. "He puts the President at ease just before air time. Ike goes into a little room just off the studio and relaxes with Montgomery. Montgomery also cues the President to start talking, a duty ordinarily handled by floor managers.

"This matter of cues is bad enough with just a floor manager but when the floor manager has to cue Montgomery who in turn cues the President, it is easy to understand why Eisenhower is on camera for four or five seconds with what is known in the trade as egg on his face, while the cues are being relayed from the mobile unit outside the White House to the f. m. to Montgomery to the President. Tinker, Evers and Chance had it real easy next to this bunch."

"WHAT ABOUT the Eisenhower style?" I inquired. "Any drastic changes since Montgomery got an office in the White House?"

"Well, yes. The President nowadays stands on his feet in front of his desk rather than sitting behind it. It gives him a more genial appearance. Also, he's taught the President to keep his head up so that we don't get that dome shot we used to."

"Magnificent contributions, both of them," I said, "but it doesn't seem enough to keep a man busy for months on a five-day week, does it? How about his own show —'Robert Montgomery Presents'? He must be neglecting it."

"I asked him about that and he just grinned and said that his New York staff reports that the confusion has been cut in half since he took up his White House duties."

150 Attend

Realtors Hear Address By Professor at Denison

The Marion Real Estate Board held its second annual banquet last night in the Hotel Harding ballroom with approximately 150 persons in attendance.

Humorist Edward Wright, professor and head of the theater arts, entertained the group with sketches of American life, ranging from small town ministers to a hog caller at Queen Elizabeth's coronation. Wright's sketches were called "Pot Shots at Humanity."

BOARD PRESIDENT Lowell Douce, in the welcoming address, told of the board's achievements last year and of some of its hopes for the future. He said nearly $400,000 worth of property was sold last year under the multiple-listing plan, a system in which brokers place their property listings with the board and sales may be made by any of the members.

Douce said the board, in the year ahead, will help the National Real Estate Board with its "Build America Better" program and will aid a state drive to increase membership in the organization.

HE ALSO TOLD of the local board's six purposes: 1. To better relations between property owners and brokers; 2. To encourage cooperation between brokers; 3. To aid civic groups; 4. To maintain fair real estate fees; 5. To oppose laws unfair to real estate owners; 6. To improve ethical and legal broker standards.

The local board will be host to 15 central Ohio counties in District 3 at a conference May 7, Douce announced.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT was furnished by a tap dancing act, a men's quartet and accordionist Goldie Swope.

Dancers Deanna Douce and Susie Caskey tapped to "Sweet Sue" and "The Bells of St. Marys."

The Eagles quartet — Art Ward, William Cowles, Robert Heimlich and Hubert Hoch — sang six numbers, "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover," "Mississippi Moon," "You, You, You," "He's Not Dead Yet," and "When Moses Was a Little Child." Cowles also led the group in community singing.

Charlton Myers served as toastmaster and Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

County Government Problems Discussed by Women Voters

Five possible solutions to problems faced by Ohio counties were brought out in two unit discussion meetings Wednesday of the Marion League of Women Voters.

These two meetings conclude a study of the structure of overall county government in Ohio which has been this year's current agenda item for all Ohio Leagues. This summary brought out facts learned by the Marion League's survey of local county administration during the past month.

Differences Noted

Mrs. Paul Wolf, Mrs. Robert Stout, and Mrs. Robert Axe, resource committee members, pointed out the differences in the characteristics of Ohio counties. These included the extremely urban and metropolitan nature of Cuyahoga County with many overlapping jurisdictions, as contrasted with a very rural and sparsely populated county like Bron County in southeastern Ohio, as well as characteristics of Marion County with its growing urban trend along with its sizeable rural area.

Questions from members brought out the fact that the administrative set-up for county government in Ohio is based on 19th century agricultural needs before 20th century industrialization, which members felt is the basis for present-day problems.

Of the several plans proposed for alleviating governmental needs of the counties, two plans were favored by a majority of the members attending the meetings.

New Legislation

One was the implementation of legislative authority to set up alternative forms of county government, and the second was for the removal of obstacles in the 1933 constitutional amendment granting the powers of county home rule if a four-way majority could be obtained in the various subdivisions in the county.

Other proposals were the reorganization of administrative offices for greater centralization in county government, the carrying out of the constitutional mandate for adequate civil service practices, and the appointment of certain county officers who are now elected.

Discussion and unit leaders for the morning meeting were Mrs. B. N. Salzman and Mrs. J. W. Fretz, while Mrs. Walter Sinden and Mrs. William R. Diem served in those capacities in the evening meeting.

Showing of Religious Movie Slated at Rally

A religious moving picture, "Great Discovery," which features Colleen Townsend as the heroine, will be shown in Marion at the Youth for Christ rally Saturday night at the Emmanuel Baptist Church educational building on Fairview St. This is a Light of the World Films production. Appearing with Miss Townsend is Noel Reyburn and Charlie Turner of the Haven of Rest Quartet.

Miss Townsend, formerly under contract with 20th Century-Fox Studios, spent last summer as a member of a Gospel team visiting a displaced persons camp in Europe. In the "Great Discovery," a full-length story, she portrays an American girl's actual experience of leaving a materially important job in Belgium to return to a Christian college where she finds herself "out of step" and doomed to no success in her motive of winning the love of the young man there whom she had met abroad.

Rev. C. E. Hershey, Emmanuel Church pastor and director of the Marion Youth For Christ, will be in charge of the rally.

Pianist for the rally will be Mrs. Maxine Kelley, and usherettes will be Misses Elaine Coy, Juanita Walraven, Janet Eaton, and Nancy Hershey.

Maryland Boy, 11, Hit On Head With Ball, Dies

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — A fifth-grader beaned on the head by a baseball his friend hit back to him died last night in Frederick Memorial Hospital. Dr. Robert Furic, county medical examiner, said he suffered a fractured skull.

The youngster, 11-year-old Elmer Mullinix, had not appeared to suffer ill effects from the blow and was riding his bicycle later in the afternoon, his family said.

He was taken to the hospital after becoming nauseated early last night. He died two hours later.

A MOTHER AT 13. Mrs. Judy Ann Buckner cuddles her newborn baby, Barbara Ann, after its birth in the Angel Clinic at Franklin N. C. The young mountain girl, a bride of 13, became a mother only a week before her 14th birthday. She was married last March 12 to Kenneth Buckner, 27-year-old laborer who worked in a Pontiac, Mich., auto plant until he was laid off recently. The young mother who weighs only about 60 pounds, and the 5-pound baby were reported in good condition.

Air Mail Schedule To Change Monday

Effective Monday, March 1, a new air mail schedule will go into effect at the Marion Postoffice, it was announced today by Postmaster Homer D. Cole. Airmail will be dispatched on all Lake Central Airlines flights except the Columbus to Luma flight leaving Marion at 7:59 a.m. The changes were made because of changes in departure time of the flights.

The new schedule follows: Lima to Columbus, 9:52 a.m.; Indianapolis to Cleveland, 9:45 a.m.; Cleveland to Indianapolis, 12:06 p.m.; Pittsburgh to Chicago, 2:45 p.m.; Bloomington, Ind., to Pittsburgh, 2:54 p.m.; Columbus to Cleveland, 3:54 p.m.; Cleveland to Indianapolis, 6:20 p.m. All schedules denote leaving time.

The island of Saint Martin in the West Indies is divided between France and the Netherlands but the people speak English.

Defendant Faces Same Judge 19 Years Later

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — Robert P. Tardiff, 39, has been in court twice in the past 19 years—and on both occasions he was sentenced by the same judge.

District Court Judge George B. Sears sentenced him yesterday to a year in jail on a charge of molesting a 12-year-old girl.

In 1935, Judge Sears sentenced him as a defective delinquent. He served 16 years in various state institutions on that charge.

YMCA Program Explained to Local Kiwanis Members

Marion Kiwanians were informed of the various functions of the new YMCA when they held their weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at the "Y".

Preceding the luncheon, recreational facilities, including the swimming pool, were open to the members, and later members were taken on a tour of the building.

Arthur Haas, general secretary of the YMCA, spoke briefly to the group explaining the purpose of the "Y" and how it is operated. At present, he said, there are about 1,500 memberships in the "Y" among young people.

He then introduced Marvin Ludwig, boys work secretary, who conducted a "mock" induction ceremony like that which is held for new YMCA members. Ludwig was leader, Jerry Bechtle, son of Kiwanian Karl Bechtle, portrayed the new member. His father also took part. Jerry is a member of the "Y".

In his talk, Ludwig displayed the "Y" emblem and described its various parts. Christ is the center of the Young Men's Christian Association, adding that the "Y" develops spirit, mind and body by means of a world fellowship.

In the induction ceremony, new members vow to promote the Christian way of living in daily lives by holding reverence for God, respect all people regardless of nationality, creed or color, and daily live the Golden Rule.

Program chairman was Clarence L. Baxter.

Guests included Ward C. Case of Columbus, Harry Arnold of Newark Jerry Bechtle, Frank Servis, Dwight Howard and Gordon Dune of Marion.

No Hurry to Prosecute

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Officers who went to arrest Frank I. Kelsey, charged with forging a $1,622 check, found him suffering from a bad case of mumps.

They took one look and decided it was a job for the sheriff, who decided it was a job for the county attorney, whose answer was:

"Let's wait until tomorrow—maybe I can think of something."

Cincinnati City Council Tied Up

Neither of Two Bitter Factions Has Majority

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's city government, which has been plagued by financial difficulties for several months, has a new problem today—a City Council on which neither the Charter nor Republican party has a working majority.

The Charterites, a coalition of Democrats and Liberal Republicans, lost their 5-4 majority yesterday when Councilman Albert C Jordan withdrew as a member of the party and said he would serve henceforth as an independent.

Jordan, a CIO labor leader, was elected to the council for the first time last November.

His withdrawal from the party yesterday resulted, at least in part, from council's action a few weeks ago in passing a city payroll tax as a means of working out of a seven million dollar deficit for this year. Jordan opposed the tax.

Sears Employes Invest in Firm

37 in Marion Hold 1,402 Stock Shares

Employes of the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Store at 231 W. Center St., now have $120,174 invested in the company under a profit sharing plan, L. F. Rentz, store manager, announced today.

He said that 37 employes hold 1,402 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $33,248. At the end of 1953, Sears stock sold for $62 per share on the open market.

Now in its 38th year, the Sears savings and profit sharing pension fund was created to encourage thrift among its employes, to permit them to share in the company's profits, and to assist them in creating a financial reserve to help provide for their eventual retirement. All regular company employes are eligible to join the fund after one year with the company.

Members deposit 5 per cent of their wages into the fund each year, up to a maximum of $500. The company then contributes into the fund an established percentage of its net profit before taxes. This sum is credited to employe-members on the basis of their length of service and annual contribution.

Total current assets of the fund now exceed $500,000,000. Of this amount $84,000,000 represents deposits from the 120,000 employe members. The fund now owns 26 per cent of Sears stock and is the largest single stockholder.

Civil Defense Team Called Out in Test

A portion of Marion's Civil Defense Corps was called out for a practice alert Wednesday at 9:45 p. m.

Police Chief Thomas Coon ordered the mobile rescue team out in a test to see how quickly members could report to their duty stations and be ready for an emergency.

William Luce, captain of the team, said today all members of the team reported to their assigned duty stations within nine minutes after the first alert was sounded. The team presently has nine members.

There is also a 15-man auxiliary police team in the city which makes up the other portion of the local civil defense unit. Both teams are part of the Ohio Civil Defense Corps, Mobile Support Group.

SPECIAL CONGRESS 'TARGETS.' As things stand now, the Democrats have picked 21 "special target" congressional districts (black) they expect to win from the GOP in next November's election, and the Republicans have picked 15 (white) they expect to win from Democrats, according to a political survey in Washington. The districts are indicated above. In addition, the Democrats say 17 other Republican districts are likely to be won away, and Republicans say they probably can unseat 15 additional Democrats.

Buckeyes' Ebert in Final Home Appearance Against Hoosiers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The greatest scorer in Ohio State University's basketball history makes his final home appearance tomorrow night against Indiana's hurrin' Hoosiers.

He's Paul Ebert, masterful 6 foot 4 center, who has rewritten most of the Ohio State scoring records in three years as a varsity regular. In fact, Paul has established more than a dozen new marks.

Paul treasurers two in particular. In 3 years and 64 games he has manufactured 1,393 points — easily erasing the old mark of 1,084 set by Dick Schnittker.

Ebert also holds the one-season record of 477 points. That one should go by the boards tomorrow, since Paul already has pitched in 473 points in 20 games this year.

That may not seem like a lot of points, with gigantic scoring figures being amassed by guys such as Bevo Francis of Rio Grande and Frank Selvy of Furman, but Ebert's is a special case.

He's only 6-4, a mere small-fry against most of the centers he's had to face. He was a star forward at Columbus South High School before enrolling at OSU and was accorded all-state basketball honors.

And Ebert has not been on a winning team, through no fault of his own.

Buck Basketball Coach Floyd Stahl considers Ebert the greatest player he's ever coached, and believes Paul would have been a much more effective scorer had he been playing forward.

Ebert is Ohio's leading rebounder and figures prove he's one of the best "feeders" on the team when it comes to setting up plays.

Modest about his good fortune in basketball, Ebert hopes to play professional baseball once he receives his Bachelor of Science degree in June. He's been a standout pitcher for the Bucks the past two springs.

Buck diamond Coach Marty Karow predicts a bright future for Ebert in the pro ranks.

But Paul isn't putting all his eggs in a baseball basket. The personable senior plans to enter medical school this fall at OSU. He carries a "B" average and is a member of the Senior Honorary Society at Ohio State.

He'd like to combine baseball and medicine for a while, before settling down to doctoring the year 'round.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A French journalist, one of three visiting the Maryland Statehouse last night, scanned a House roll-call sheet and asked, "What's this 'yea'?"

"Don't you people speak English?" he asked.

Curriculum Group To Make Study of Educational Topics

Marion's new Curriculum Coordinating Council, formed to improve learning experiences of school children, will begin study of six subjects — guidance, report cards, school philosophy, educational supplies, the instructional program, and school affairs — at its next meeting March 22.

The council is composed of four groups, school children, parents, teachers and members of civic, patriotic and service groups. A cross section of Marion's population is desired so that all views on school improvement are represented, said Harold Edwards, one of the council's organizers.

The council met in January to set up the areas of study. Meetings will be held the fourth Monday in each month for the remainder of the school year.

Letters have been sent to Marion civic, patriotic and service groups asking for a representative to the council. Any group not receiving a letter should contact Edwards before March 15.

Michigan Dog Dies at 27

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — If Lucky Lindy had been human instead of a fox terrier, she would have died at the age of 189.

One year of a dog's life, it is said, corresponds to seven of man's. Lindy was 27 at death.

She was named after Charles A. Lindbergh, who landed his Spirit of St. Louis in Paris May 21, 1927, the day the dog was born.

A Hopi Indian crew fighting a forest fire in 1953 staged a rain dance and two hours later a cloudburst put out the fire says the National Geographic Society.

Follows Rash of Complaints

Ohio Tightens Health Insurance Laws

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Ohio is tightening enforcement of laws governing companies selling health and accident insurance.

The action results from mounting complaints that some companies cancel or refuse to renew policies paid on for years, after holders file their first claims.

Walter A. Robinson, state insurance superintendent says most complaints are against firms making extravagant claims in newspaper and radio advertising. He estimated complaints now average at least three a day.

So Robinson is planning to remind health and accident firms that Ohio can put them out of business by revoking their license for gyp operations.

A total of 226 companies collecting more than 133 million dollars in premiums annually, are licensed by Ohio to write sickness and accident insurance.

The superintendent says all of them will receive a bulletin next month demanding strict compliance with laws on insurance advertising.

Described as one of the best sets of statutes in the nation, Ohio law says:

No insurer doing business in the state . . . shall use in connection with the solicitation of sickness and accident insurance any advertising . . . which is materially misleading or deceptive . . .

'If the superintendent of insurance finds that any such advertising . . . is materially misleading or deceptive, he shall order the insurer . . . to cease such use.

'If the superintendent finds after due notice and hearing that any authorized insurer . . . has willfully violated any such order to cease he may suspend or revoke the license of such insurer, agent or broker.'

Maximum penalty is $500 for each offense.

The state division of insurance held 43 hearings last year. It revoked 10 licenses and denied them to 14 'unsuitable' applicants.

Robinson says newspapers cooperate with his division but that some occasionally carry advertisements from companies unlicensed in Ohio.

The superintendent said five newspapers promptly cancelled such ads last year when his division brought the matter to their notice.

The law also applies to radio solicitation by unlicensed firms. But Robinson says he lacks jurisdiction outside the state and can do little about insurance programs carried by national networks. Letters usually are ignored he said by such firms unlicensed in Ohio.

The same thing applies to out-of-state firms soliciting insurance business in Ohio by mail he added.

Robinson's division has figured out a quick way to check on complaints by Ohioans. His bulletin will direct Ohio-licensed firms to place their form numbers on all advertising.

The company form number is required by law on the lower left hand corner of the first page of all policies and the division keeps a file of all policy forms.

The form number on which insurance ads are based will enable the division to check quickly whether the advertising is misleading or deceptive, Robinson explained.

Robinson said many policy holders fail to realize that their policies permit companies to cancel them or to refuse renewals. Such policies contain a provision often in large type. "This policy is renewable at the option of the company."

The insurance superintendent explained that the provision makes it legal for the company to terminate the policy. Non-cancellable policies cost more he said.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche stepped into the picture to urge Robinson and other officials to 'resolve doubts in favor of the public.' He also asked them to recommend legislation needed to strengthen Ohio insurance statutes.

Benjamin Franklin suggested that America make the wild turkey its national emblem objecting to the bald eagle because he said it was lazy, a thief, a coward and a bully.

Rep. Dewey Short To Speak Monday At Ohio Wesleyan

DELAWARE—U. S. Rep. Dewey Short will not be the first Methodist minister to speak from the platform of Ohio Wesleyan University's Gray Chapel but he'll be talking about things political rather than spiritual when he appears here Monday.

The Missouri Republican will be the central figure at the sixth annual Republican Recruitment Day sponsored by Ohio Wesleyan's Institute of Practical Politics.

He will address the student body at 11 a.m. in Gray Chapel and will participate in group discussions with the students faculty and visiting political leaders in the afternoon.

Ray Bliss state GOP chairman and Floyd McCaffree director of research of the Republican National Committee also will take part in the afternoon program.

A former Methodist minister and professor of philosophy Mr. Short was first elected to Congress in 1928 and has been a member continuously since 1935. He has been a member of the Armed Services committee of which he is now chairman and of its antecedent the Military Affairs Committee since 1939.

Statistics indicate that 64 out of every 100 boy babies born in 1954 in the United States will live to be 65 years old.

Superiority of Science

One of Britain's "white papers" on defense does what so far has not been done successfully here in many speeches.

Britain now has a statement of the new philosophy of national security in clear terms. It has this statement although it still hasn't been accomplished by the Eisenhower administration, because of the "white paper" tradition of wrapping up issues in one full-dress statement, instead of discussing them piecemeal.

This is what Field Marshall Earl Alexander, minister of defense, says about British security in the years ahead:

It will be based on a tireless effort to maintain superiority of science. Britain cannot hope to match manpower with its probable enemies. But it can do again, if it does not falter, what it did at the outset of World War II when it stopped Hitler with the superiority of its fighting planes and then went on to help destroy Hitlerism as part of an alliance.

Hitler, as it happened, made the strategic error of preparing Germany to wage a particular kind of war at a particular time and place. The French had made the same error when they committed themselves to a Maginot Line.

Marshall Alexander recommends national defense geared to a continuous rate of technical development which will keep all potential enmies off guard. Like the United States, Britain will rely heavily on the new weapons which have developed from nuclear fission plus speedy planes capable of carrying an offense to the heart of an enemy country.

Actually, this is traditional British policy transferred from long-range naval power to long-range air power, just as it eventually will be plain that the United States is applying Admiral Mahan's doctrine of sea power to the air above the sea.

The free world cannot match the manpower hordes of Asiatic despots, as it learned as recently as the Korean war and is still learning in Indochina. But it is unlikely the masters of the manpower hordes will be able to match scientific development with the free world.

The new philosophy of security is as simple as that, when it can be expressed simply.

Friends of the Taxpayer

As March 15 draws closer, a taxpayer can find comfort in the presence of friends. He never had so many, especially in the Senate and House of Representatives.

Rep. Martin, the Republican speaker of the House, has proposed a billion dollars' worth of excise-tax reductions. Rep. Reed, Republican chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, would go even further than that in lightening the burden.

In the Senate, Georgia's influential Sen. George, a specialist in taxation, says taxes should be reduced suddenly and drastically to give consumers more buying power. In this he is backing up Sen. Douglas of Illinois, an economist who may or may not be influenced by his Democrat label when he urges direct help for consumers at the expense of striving for a balanced budget.

The balanced budget, of course, is the rub. The Eisenhower administration must think first of striving for a sound relationship between income and outgo. Taxes are income. Spending is outgo, and there is no present sign that representatives nad senators are interested in lopping off enough national defense to make up for the billions some of them say should be lopped off federal taxes.

There evidently has been no change in the rule for political survival for members of Congress: Vote in favor of appropriation bills and talk against tax bills.

For Sport's Sake

The sudden and spiteful sale of Yankee pitcher Vic Raschi to the Cardinals of the National League for refusing to sign the contract he had been offered is more than a routine sports story under the circumstances.

Last November, the United States Supreme Court handed down a long-awaited ruling that professional baseball was a sport, not a business. This status as a sport, said the Supreme Court, excluded the owners from the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Thereupon, the owners breathed easier. A combination of circumstances had put them on the defensive. One of the circumstances was their practice of buying and selling ballplayers as though they were chattels instead of human beings. While the ballplayers, themselves, could see why organized baseball would be impossible if the wealthiest clubs could buy up the best players at will, no one ever has argued that this sort of thing would be tolerated in anything but professional baseball and, inferentially, other professional sports similar in nature.

If the Yankees had sold a recalcitrant pitcher down the river last year for the high crime of asking for more money, the U.S. Supreme Court might have found it a lot harder to believe that professional baseball is a sport, not a business.

Another Pearl Harbor

By David Lawrence

Soviets Building A-Bomb Stockpile in Red China

The most significant piece of news that has come out of the now adjourned Berlin Conference is the belated report that Red China now has a stock of atom bombs.

For many weeks here there has been speculation as to how the United States could retaliate instantly in the case of an atomic attack unless it was definitely known where the bomb came from.

It has been suggested that if a plane from Red China, for example, should suddenly drop an atom bomb blast on some Pacific Coast city of the United States, there could hardly be any instant retaliation on Soviet Russia because the latter's responsibility for the act would not be clearly fixed.

It is recalled that when the Red Chinese armies intervened in Korea, the Communist government at Peiping disclaimed all responsibility and said the armies were merely "Chinese volunteers."

Soviet Russia, although having publicly admitted at a U.N. Assembly meeting in December 1952 that it has been furnishing arms and ammunition regularly to Red China, still insists it is a "neutral" and not a "belligerent" insofar as the Korean war is concerned.

THE UNITED STATES, Great Britain and France agreed at Berlin last week not to insist on defining Soviet Russia's status in the forthcoming Geneva Conference and merely accepted Soviet Russia as a participant.

If, therefore, Red China now has a stock of atom bombs and should decide some day to do a Pearl Harbor type of attack without warning, would the United States take the matter up with the United Nations and would not valuable time be lost in retaliation if the Chinese plane could not be identified?

The news concerning the stockpile of atom bombs in Red China comes out of London in a press dispatch, which says:

"The mass circulation Sunday newspaper, The People, said Foreign Minister Molotov told Secretary Dulles at Berlin that Russia had given Communist China 'a stock' of atom bombs.

"The paper said the "startling fact was disclosed' by Molotov in private talks with Dulles on President Eisenhower's atom-pool plan. China has every right as an atomic power to take part in the talks on the Eisenhower plan,' it said."

Whatever the reason was for telling Dulles about it, the meaning of the transfer of atom bombs from Soviet Russia to Red China is clear—the possibility of an inspired attack on the United States or its forces in the Far East by Red China with munitions furnished by Soviet Russia.

THE SPEECH by Dulles before the Council of Foreign Relations in New York on January 12, which said that any attack would be met by massive retaliatory power, was taken generally to mean that such an instant reprisal would be directed at Soviet Russia because, up to now, it has been assumed that only Moscow would be involved in any such undeclared war.

It is conceivable now that, if Red China ever starts an atomic attack, the United States would have to determine first whether the atom bomb did or did not come from Red Chinas territory. This, even with a new radar and other detecting devices, might be difficult to establish promptly.

What seems to be called for now is an amplification of the warning given by Dulles in his New York speech so that any country allied with Soviet Russia will be included as within the responsibility of Moscow.

IN THIS WAY it would become known to the Soviet government explicitly that any indirect attack with munitions furnished by the Soviets will be regarded as just the same as an attack ordered by Moscow itself.

The United States is bound by the North Atlantic Treaty to regard any of the twelve NATO countries as if it were an attack on the United States.

The treaty does not say what weapons will or will not be used, and it has been assumed here that America would not be the first to throw an atom bomb.

In the last war, of course, the United States did take the initiative in the use of the atom bomb, and there are many officials here who think there should never be any ban placed on the use of any weapon, irrespective of whether the enemy uses that weapon first.

Certainly the dispatch from London is fair warning that another "Pearl Harbor" could come in an unexpected place and from an unsuspected quarter.

Mixed Up Methuselahs

By TRUMAN TWILL

Ever since a choir school in New York City got into a jam by taking the rod to some choir boys who needed it, the subject of corporal punishment has been getting renewed attention.

Here is the perfect example of what's wrong with corporal punishment. First, there is going to be some for those who need it. Then when the old maids of both sexes and the twitter-bugs squeal in alarm, there is a complete abandonment of corporal punishment. No one gets paddled—not even those who need it.

No wonder the rising generation gets confused when the generation in charge cannot make up its mind.

Corporal punishment is like castor oil and epsom salts— something that should be available when needed. No one but a fool or a sadist overdoes the use of the rod. That's as sure a way to spoil a child as never to use the rod at all.

Whenever the subject comes up, there is the usual guff by a lot of former juvenile delinquents about how they were licked once a day and twice on Sunday and look how well they turned out for heyvins sake and so on . . .

They cannot be stopped from arguing in reverse, but no one needs to take them seriously. If old-timers who talk this way are living testimonials to the efficacy of the oak paddle, the willow switch, the oiled strap and the limber cane, all is lost and civilization had better run for the hills.

There is a happy medium between too much corporal punishment and none at all. There is a time in the training of a dog or a horse, for instance, when punishment is better than reward. There is a time like that in the training of children, too.

Anyone who has tried to understand how children react to their environment knows they thrive on discipline and hate chaos. Their strongest urge is to find security. They are drawn as irresistibly to a focal point of strength in adults as they are drawn to caves, tree houses, doll houses, dens and hideaways—all symbolic of the security they are looking for.

Corporal punishment admitted recklessly and too severely can make children afraid, or it can make them confident. They do not resent being punished for their misdeeds; indeed, they look upon it by hindsight as a rewarding experience.

The burnt child dreads the fire but is not angry at the fire because it burned him. He respects its ability to burn and resolves to use fire properly in the future.

An ordinary child in ordinary circumstances will admit cheerfully he and all others like him should be punished for wrong-doing because not to inflict punishment for their wrong-doing is to perpetrate injustice—and no living thing has a keener, livelier sense of justice than a child.

Yet, the generation in charge blows alternately hot and cold on the whole matter, thereby planting the idea in the minds of millions of children that their elders are a bunch of crazy, mixed-up Methuselahs.

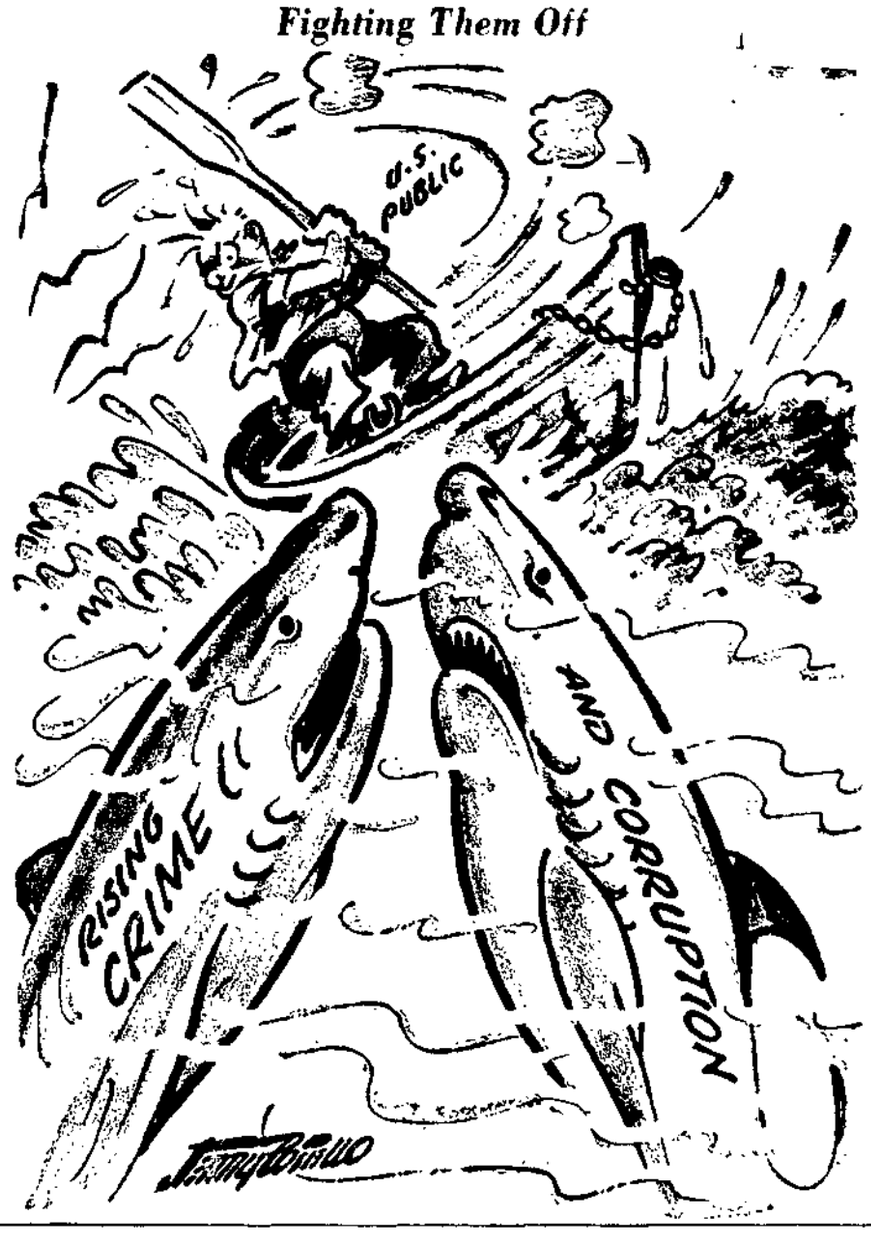
Don't bleat it around, children, on pain of paddlement, but you are right. Some of the patriarchs who keep throwing you off balance were spoiled by too much corporal punishment. It addled their brains. Others were spoiled by too little. Their brains were addled anyway.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking Railroad was opened from Columbus to Sandusky, passing through Marion, in the early 1890's. It became a part of the Toledo Division of the Pennsylvania Lines and later was known as the Sandusky Branch of the Toledo, Walhonding Valley & Ohio Railroad Company. In the early 1900's the company owned 20.25 miles of main track in the county, valued at $91,125; 7.09 miles of siding valued at $8,508; rolling stock valued at $52,650; buildings, tools and credits valued at $9,103. The total tax valuation was $161,387.

Fighting Them Off



Latin America's Growth Phenomenal

By Richard Fryklund

Latin America, with a population already equal to that of the United States and Canada combined, is the fastest-growing area in the world.

This fact alone would be enough to make Uncle Sam look southward, as he will be doing at the tenth Inter-American Conference meeting at Caracas March 1, to firm up ties with an important part of the world.

There is another good, practical reason for paying closer attention to Latin America: Much of that area is moving from an underdeveloped status onto a higher producing and consuming level. South and Central Americans are bound to grow more important in the near future, both economically and politically.

The population of Latin America, according to latest estimates, is about 173,000,000. Canada and the U. S. count about 13,600,000 and 160,000,000 persons respectively. Three Latin American countries are more populous than Canada—Brazil, the eighth largest nation in the world with about 54,000,000; Mexico with more than 27,000,000; and Argentina with 18,000,000.

THERE ARE 62 cities in Latin America with a population of more than 100,000, compared with 106 such in the U.S. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth largest cities in the Western Hemisphere are in Latin America: Buenos Aires, 3,-00,000; Rio de Janeiro, 2,400,000, Sao Paulo, Brazil, 2,200,000, and Mexico City, 2,200,000.

All this is small potatoes compared with what is to come. While world population is growing at the rate of 1 per cent a year and the U. S. is growing 1.7 per cent a year, Latin America is swelling by 2.5 per cent. If that rate continues, Latin Americans will outnumber North Americans 550,-000,000 to 250,000,000 in another 50 years.

Reasons for the amazing growth are the high, steady birth rates (Chile, for instance, has had an annual birth rate of 32 or 33 a year per thousand persons since 1934; Venezuela is up to 44.3 per thousand and still gaining; no Latin American nation has as low a birth rate as the United States' 24.5; and steadily declining death rates (Peru, 9.2 a year per thousand, down from 16 in 1937; Argentina, 8.7 compared with 11.5 in 1937, Honduras, 10.7 compared with 18.2 in 1937; The United States' death rate has dropped slightly from 11.3 to 9.7 over the same period).

BIRTH RATES in Latin America, predominantly Catholic countries, are expected to remain high, but modern health measures are expected to lower the death rate further. So populations are expected to continue gains like these: Argentina, 13,500,000 to more than 18,000,000 sice 1937; Brazil, from 38,700,0000 to 54,000,000; Mexico, 18,700,000 to 27,000,000; Colombia, 8,500,000 to 11,300,000.

Along with this population growth has come economic expansion, reflected particularly in increased foreign trade. Eighteen per cent of the world's trade now goes to or from Latin America, compared with 15.3 per cent in 1937. This is of particular importance to the United States, as most of this trade (10.1 per cent of the world total) is between North America and Latin America. This is the busiest trading area outside Western Europe and the artificially maintained sterling bloc.

Except for Canada, Latin America is this country's biggest customer and supplier.

Industrial production in Latin America is expanding with population. Almost doubled in Argentina since 1937; more than doubled in Chile, almost doubled in Mexico.

-:-

AS ANOTHER indication of expansion, the number of railway passenger miles traveled in Argentina and Cuba almost tripled since 1947, doubled in Brazil and Mexico, increased by 50 per cent in Chile. Rail freight ton-miles have almost doubled in the same period in Costa Rica, almost tripled in Ecuador, increased by 50 per cent in Chile and 30 per cent in Argentina and Brazil.

Standards of living also are on the rise in the southern nations, although the increase is not as spectacular as that in population. Per capita incomes still average below the $500 mark anually, as compared with upwards of $1,000 in Canada, Britain and Scandinavia, for instance.

Since 1937 U. S. national income has quadrupled, Venezuela's has almost quintupled, Mexico's is up 600 per cent, Guatemaal's 500 per cent, Argentin's 800 per cent.

Food production has not expanded enough, however, to raise diets to desirable levels. Persons in Argentina and Uruguay take in enough calories, on the average, but persons in Mexico, for instance, lag by 17 per cent, in Chile by 10 per cent, in Brazil by almost 5 per cent.

MOST COUNTRIES are beter off that in pre-World War II years, however: Average calories consumed per person in Brazil is up 10 per cent, in Venezuela and Cuba up 5 per cent, in Mexico up 12 per cent, in Colombia up 20 per cent.

Nutrition will improve faster in Latin America if wasteful agricultural practices are abandoned and if more arable land is put into production. Good land, however, is not plentiful in many countries, and food shortages threaten to be a real danger to Latin America if her population continues to expand at the present rate.

School attendance is growing rapidly, an indication that Latin America is out to solve her problems over the long haul.

There can be no doubt that the expanding countries to the south will be increasingly important neighbors to the United States in the years to come.

Atomic Partnership

By SYLVIA SHORT

Although the British government is anxious to come to some agreement with the United States whereby each country would exchange fully information on atomic developments, it now feels that the next move in this direction must come from America.

The British feel that their view that there should be complete pooling of information between the two countries has been made quite clear and that it is unnecessary for them to press the issue further.

Sir Winston Churchill, in particular, has always been of the opinion that there should be the fullest possible cooperation between Britain and America in the field of atomic development and that information should be freely exchaged. There is, at present, a certain amount of cooperation but this is strictly limited.

The fact that it had made its views clear to Washington is not the only reason, however, for Britain's disinclination to press the issue at this time.

The British now believe that their achievements in the field of atomic energy are second to none and that in some particulars they are ahead of the Americans. For this reason they think the U.S. has just as much to gain from a free exchange of information as has Britain.

The British are particularly proud of their advancement in the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes. They support wholeheartedly President Eisenhower's proposal for establishment of an international agency to develop and control peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Reports that the British are angry because they were not included in the preliminary secret discussions on the subject between Russia and the U.S. are wholly untrue. Prime Minister Churchill was kept fully informed from the outset as to what took place at these meetings.

The British are content to wait until the time is ripe for them to participate in the talks. Meanwhile, they continue to develop their own ambitious atomic energy program.

Daily Bible Thought

But some have unfairly heavy burdens. We can lighten some loads though and in that way magically lighten our own load. For every man shall bear his own burden.—Gal. 6:5.

These pilotless bomber squadrons that we are sending to Europe may be efficient fighting forces, but can they support much of an officers' club?

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letter to Mr. Dulles

Dear Secretary Dulles: I still don't get you. No matter how you shake it up, it still comes out that the same old Panmunjom monkey wrench routine is to be repeated in April in Geneva and that it will be a big gain for our side because the Chinese Reds will perform in Swiss costumes and everybody will be higher up in the air. (I thought we were high up enough already.)

All I can make of it is that the Chinese Commies who were somewhat handicapped, because they put their show on in a small town, are now invited to make it a real production number in one of the most famous cities on the face of the earth.

Panmunjom always seemed small time and off the main stem. But Geneva is big time. It is like switching the act "Unscrambling an Egg" from a whistle stop to Broadway.

What goes, Mr. Dulles? Do you think things will come out better because the Chinese, wearing Alpine hats, can yodel their share of us? Will our side gain on account of the Panmunjom screams will get louder echoes in the Alps?

We went into a huddle with Molotov to get settlements in Germany and Austria and came out with nothing but a plan to make "The Panmunjom Follies" a road show. (Molotov couldn't have done better if he had been Charlie Chan.)

We had the Panmunjom thing pretty well hidden, but now it couldn't be reproduced on a bigger scale if the production had been taken over by Billy Rose, Josh Logan, the Theater Guild and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

In fact, you had better get them over to Geneva with you to see that the Russians and Red Chinese don't excel in the superproduction stuff and make Uncle Sam seem like the operator of a small-town shoeshow.

With a Russian Bear and and a Chinese Dragon up there in the Swiss mountains, Yankee Doodle's pony is in for no picnic and if I were you I would arrange for plenty of St. Bernard dogs for our side so we can get out by Christmas no matter what shape we are in.

Just listening to that one word "Nyet" echoing from peak to peak and across the icy valleys will be plenty tough. You emphasize that nothing will go on in Geneva that didn't go on in Panmunjom and that it is merely a switch of scenery. Wanna bet?

It looks to me like all our side has done is to change the whole Korean thing from a suburban roller skating derby into a de luxe show and ice carnival with the Chinese Commies and Russia getting better billing and more attractive views from those Swiss hotel windows.

Hoping I am wrong, and wishing you luck, I am

Yours groggily,
Elmer

P.S.—Don't forget your snowshoes and a sprig of edelweiss.

Following custom, hundreds of Seminole Indians filled the Hialeah infield as guests of the management the other day and it is our belief that more than one red man, after watching the wild behavior around the mutuels exclaimed, "And they say WE are the Indians!"

Incredible Happenings. Once upon a time there was a TV actor who let his program conclude without calling attention to a national magazine with his picture on it.

Seeing Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz in their new movie is like watching their TV program for three hours. . . . It's "I Love Lucy" with popcorn.

JACK BIERCE
Music Evangelist

Music Evangelist Heard Nightly at Oakland Services

Jack Bierce of Logansport, Ind., music evangelist for the union EUB Gospel Truth Crusade in progress at Oakland Church here, is heard nightly at the services for which Rev. Morton Dorsey of Chillicothe is the preacher. In addition to leading congregational singing, he presents his testimony through illustrations and gives messages in song. The united effort of the five Evangelical United Brethren Churches of the community will continue through March 7.

Last night, Rev. Dorsey preached on "The Finish of a Soul," using verses 16 to 21 of the 12th chapter of Luke as his text. His sermon was based on man's "false sense of ownership and the forgotten sense of stewardship. He said, "We must realize that all we have belongs to God. Tithing is not enough, but we must conduct ourselves in such a way that all we have must be held in trust for him.

"We live in a generation that is trying to satisfy its soul on pleasure. You can satisfy your body with material things, but not your soul. If you are trying to satisfy it with power, position, pleasure or anything else, it cannot be done. It must be with Christ."

Plane Not Lost, Just Waiting Turn to Land

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today reports of a lost plane near Wellington last night probably resulted from "stacking up" of commercial airlines, awaiting their chance to land at Cleveland Hopkins Airport.

Wellington, in Lorain County, is a holding point for commercial air transports in bad weather. Pilots are instructed to circle at specified altitudes there until airport authorities decide they can land safely.

Scores of persons phoned the State Highway Patrol at Lorain last night, reporting they heard a small plane circling in the rain and snow filled sky for four hours.

U.S. Is Optimistic on Defense Alliance In Spite of Upheavals in Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials were reported more optimistic today than in some time over prospects for a Middle East defense alliance, despite political upheavals in Syria and Egypt.

While these countries are not envisioned as part of a defense chain to ring Russia's southern border, their affairs naturally influence the actions of their neighbors.

The council of 13 young army officers who rule Egypt made a point of announcing there would be no change in Egypt's friendly attitude toward the West. This backed up a State Department estimate that the ouster of Mohammed Naguib as president-premier was an "internal affair" only.

Iron Ruler Ousted

There was no ready interpretation of fast-breaking developments in Syria. A military coup there forced the resignation of Adib Shishekly, who has survived 26 assassination attempts while ruling with an iron hand for three years.

The big news, from the standpoint of the proposed Middle East affiance, was President Eisenhower's announcement yesterday of U.S. military aid for Pakistan.

Eisenhower was careful to notify India's Prime Minister Nehru in a letter obviously intended to avoid any further ruffling of Nehru's oft-voiced sensitivity toward arms for the Near East.

Nehru has campaigned long and hard against military aid for Pakistan or any other country of the region. He argues this will upset the balance of peace.

Nehru Claims Neutrality

But American officials were understood to feel that, having had his say, he may ease his criticisms now that they failed to block Pakistan arms aid. The Indian leader has said he will not move toward communism in anger but will continue his efforts to weld a neutral buffer bloc between the East and West.

At Karachi, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali said Pakistan has pledged "not to engage in any act of aggression against any nation." He added that the United States has not asked for bases or other concessions.

At London, a Foreign Office spokesman said the British, "being convinced that the grant of aid is designed to strengthen the defense of the free world, believe that it will not be detrimental to India's defense."

As yet, there was no official comment from New Delhi but it was speculated there Nehru might discuss the matter in Parliament today.

25 to 50 Million

Speculation on the amount of military aid to Pakistan has run to between 25 and 50 million dollars. But officials said no figures are firm until a military survey team goes to Pakistan and determines the country's needs.

Eisenhower also emphasized the recent Pakistan-Turkey agreement to form an alliance with an "open end," that is, open to other Near East nations. The United States has given strong behind-the-scenes support to Pakistan-Turkey negotiations while maintaining an official hands-off attitude.

Pakistan and Turkey, along with Iran, Iraq and Saudi Arabia, comprise the five-nation defense chain that is contemplated. Iran and Saudi Arabia, weighed with domestic woes, are not considered likely to join any time soon. But officials said today Iraq may come in within a year.

American officials have not ruled out the possibility of Egypt's eventually joining a Near East anti-Red alliance. But that will have to wait, they say, until a settlement of Egypt's dispute with Britain over control of Suez Canal bases.

Bricker, Burke Paired

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) voted for and Sen. Burke (D-Ohio) against approval of a provision of Bricker's constitutional amendment on treaty powers in the Senate yesterday.

Chief of Staff Stages Coup

Syrian Military Leaders Rebel, Banish President

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Rebel army leaders sent Syria's ousted dictator-president, Gen. Adib Shishekly, packing into neighboring Lebanon early today and freed 12 political leaders he had arrested last month.

Their release was announced in a communique from the army chief of staff, Gen. Shawkat Shukeyr, who last night appealed for the nation of three million people—mostly Moslem—to remain calm.

Army 'Indivisible'

Shukeyr said the army is "the one indivisible unit in the country's defense."

The 12 men freed today included the top leaders of the chief anti-Shishekly factions—the Nationalists, Populists, Socialists and splinter parties. They were arrested Jan. 27 and accused by the dictator of "openly calling for mutiny and disturbance." The next day Shishekly clamped martial law on the country.

Shishekly, his brother Salah and his adjutant drove across the border after midnight following a swift army uprising early yesterday and an ultimatum that the dictator resign the presidency and get out of Syria within 24 hours.

The trio took refuge in Beirut's Saudi Arabian legation. Speculation in the Lebanese capital was that they would continue on to Saudi Arabia.

Control Damascus

The rebel army command now in control in Damascus, the Syrian capital, telephoned Lebanon's President Camille Chamoun today to assure him of their "good intentions toward Lebanon," which lies between southern Syria and the Mediterranean and for 20 years after World War I was joined with it as a French mandate.

It appeared likely that former President Hachem Bey Attasi, deposed by Shishekly in December 1951 in a bloodless coup, would head up Syria's new government. He is president of the National Assembly.

His elevation was demanded yesterday in a broadcast by rebel army leaders in north Syria, who launched the revolt there by taking over the major city of Aleppo.

(In London, the Syrian Embassy's press attache said information from Syria indicated Attasi would become president, if he has not already done so.)

Target of Assassins

Shishekly, army chief of staff from 1949 until his coup and the survivor of 26 assassination attempts and plots on his life, said in his resignation later to the Assembly speaker he was quitting "to prevent bloodshed among the people and army I so much love."

In Jewish Israel, a spokesman for the Foreign Office said the "violent changes in the neighboring state, which always has shown an implacable hostility toward Israel, are fraught with incalculable consequences and cannot but cause the government of Israel serious concern."

New Egyptian Bosses Pledge To Back West

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's under-40-year-old bosses assured the Western Powers today that a new and younger man in the top job doesn't mean a turn against the West.

British and American officials in Washington and London already had figured that the removal of conservative, 53-year-old Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib from the Nile republic's presidency would not change Egypt's foreign policy of friendliness with the West and detern 'nation that British troops must quit the Suez Canal zone.

West Believed Concerned

Rumors circulated in Cairo, however, that the West was concerned at Naguib's replacement as premier and chairman of the ruling military Revolutionary Council by 36-year-old Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser. Maj. Salah Salem, fieriest of the council members and the national guidance minister, hurriedly summoned foreign correspondents last night to tell them:

"There will be by no means any change in our policy, either external or internal."

Salem said the republic's policies "have always been made by all members of the (revolutionary) council," the group of young army officers who led the revolt against ex-King Farouk and have dominated the government ever since. The council's membership remains unchanged, except for Naguib's removal.

Nasser Role Accented

Earlier the council had insisted that Nasser had been the real leader of the revolt against Farouk and that Naguib had been only a front man. Nasser, Naguib's vice-premier, also has been Egypt's chief negotiator in the now-stalemated British-Egyptian talks to settle the Suez Canal issue.

Salem said the revolution leaders from the start had agreed that no council member should have more power than another. The showdown with Naguib came, he said, when the President threatened to resign unless he was given veto powers on council decisions and the right to dismiss Cabinet members.

Salem insisted Naguib is not under arrest in his soldier-ringed home in a Cairo suburb. He said the ex-President would be kept at home for "a month or two" and then can tell his side of the story publicly if he wants to.
